Radcliff was elected Director-at-Large of BSSA and earlier this year was elected to the Board of Directors of the National Sheriff's Association.

State May Buy New Office Tower, Build Another

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State lawmakers convening Jan. 6 apparently will be asked to pledge a $109 million lump sum appropriation to pay off the debt on the new $83 million State Office Tower and construct a similar facility for $26 million in Cleveland.

Gov. James A. Rhodes and his administrative services director, Richard L. Krabach, suggested the request Wednesday at a meeting with Harvey G. Oppmann Jr., chairman of the Ohio Building Authority (OBA).

The OBA, created by the legislature for the sole purpose of constructing new buildings, is on the hook for all the $83 million spent on the 41-story tower, and already has borrowed in excess of $2 million for the envisioned structure behind the Terminal Tower in downtown Cleveland.

Loans in both cases came from the $1.3 billion insurance fund of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, and the OBA is obligated to repay the fund with rents derived from agencies that occupy the new structures.

Neither Rhodes nor Krabach suggested a way for the legislature to come up with the money which apparently could be a major task, especially in view of a current budget crunch that already has cut state services this biennium.

But the governor told Oppmann the OBA's attorneys should draft a resolution asking the legislature to express its "intent" to appropriate the funds in the 1977-1979 biennium. Rhodes told the OBA official "I'll help you. But we're not in this officially."

Oppmann complained that while the legislature gave the OBA the authority to pick sites and construct "anything we want, we don't have the authority to see that they are paid for."

However, he said the OBA is considering another statute that might permit it to issue revenue bonds to repay the insurance fund, and then retire the bonds with rent revenues.

While Rhodes expressed his willingness to help, he said the State Office Tower "was built by the legislature. They wanted everyone else out of the Statehouse so they could become full time legislators. They got the direct benefit."

Krabach pointed out that the legislature came up about $4 million short this year when it appropriated agency rents for the 1975-1976 fiscal year of $7 million, and he said the appropriation for the second half of the biennium, starting next July 1, is another $7 million short, including the first payment of $3 million in interest to the insurance fund.

The administrative services director said the legislature "might as well pay it, and get it over with, and then no one will have to worry about it anymore." The alternative to a lump sum appropriation of $109 million is "to stretch it out over 30 years and pay $160 million, including interest," he said.

variously as $25,000, $50,000 and $100,000 — than in what he said.

In May, a federal court jury dismissed a $1-million suit against him stemming from his White House days. Haldeman refused to answer questions, citing his rights against self-incrimination.

Ehrlichman, second in influence only to Haldeman among the White House staff, left his Seattle home and became a near-recluse in Santa Fe, N.M., while he worked on "The Company," a novel about White House intrigue and blackmail. He insists it is all fiction.

He has granted few interviews but said in a recent deposition that Nixon personally ordered secret wiretap files moved to the White House for fear FBI director J. Edgar Hoover would use them for blackmail.

Mitchell, attorney general under Nixon and twice his campaign manager, returned to the spotlight briefly in October when he testified before the Senate intelligence committee. Despite the fact that testimony at the cover-up trial showed Nixon, Haldeman and Ehrlichman plotted to make him take the heat for Watergate, Mitchell has visited the former president, who is in near-exile in San Clemente, Calif.

Mardian, whose sentence on one count of conspiring to obstruct justice was 10 months to three years, has dropped out of the public gaze, working in the family heavy construction business in Phoenix.

Mitchell and many of the other lawyers convicted in the various Watergate-related prosecutions have been barred from practicing law.

Full House Gets Rail Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee is sending its omnibus railroad aid bill to the House floor after adopting a series of amendments designed to avert a threatened veto.

The panel passed the $6.4 billion bill on Wednesday. Final approval would clear the way for a reorganization of seven financially ailing northeastern railroads and federal assistance to other rail carriers across the nation.

It did not appear likely that the bill would be able to reach the floor for debate before at least Friday.

The Senate already has passed a similar bill, but that measure carries an $8.5 billion price tag. Differences between the two measures will be worked out in a conference committee.

House committee passage of the rail measure came after adoption of administration amendments to cut down total spending authorizations and to change language dealing with the reorganization process.

The House committee agreed to cut $1 billion from the original measure at the request of the administration. It compromised on provisions the administration considered unacceptable.

President Ford had threatened to veto the legislation unless it was revised to change the system for reimbursing railroads for their property taken into ConRail, the quasi-government corporation that will run the seven northeastern railroads.

Ford wanted the government to pledge to pay the railroads only $422 million for their property — the valuation set by the U.S. Railway Association, the federal agency in charge of the government's reorganization plan. Under this procedure, the railroads would have had to sue the government to get additional money for their property.

The compromise passed by the committee allows the special reorganization court to determine the value of the property, but states that the court must consider and give due weight to the $422 million valuation

Ask Reversal Of School Convictions

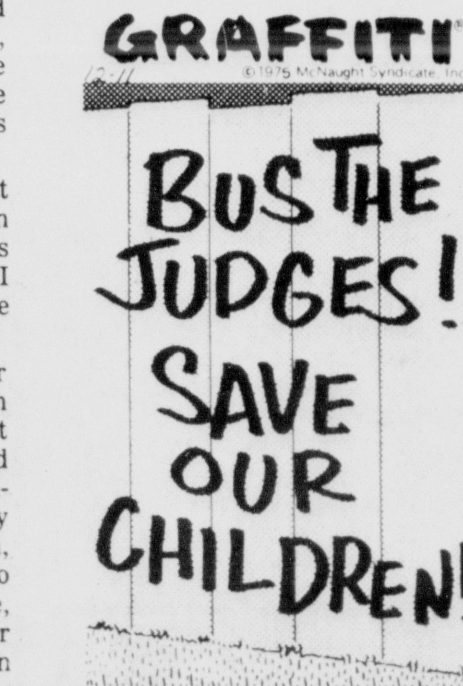

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union has called upon the Ohio Supreme Court to reverse the convictions of the Rev. Levi Whisner and other Darke County parents for sending their children to religious schools not certified by the state.

The minister and parents were convicted of violating Ohio's compulsory school attendance laws.

The ACLU, in a friend of the court brief filed late Wednesday, asserted that parents holding sincere religious beliefs have constitutional rights to rear their children in their faith and educate them in religious schools of their choosing.

It said members of the Rev. Mr. Whisner's Tabernacle Christian Church and other fundamentalist institutions are entitled to the same protection which the U.S. Supreme Court has said is applicable to those of the Amish faith. It said the school should not be required to comply with each and every one of the more than 600 standards prescribed by the state.

The ACLU said the parents do not seek absolute exemption from all regulations, the students' views should be considered in seeking a balancing of rights and it is the duty of the court to make reasonable accommodations between the truly legitimate interests of the state and religious freedom protected by the constitution.

Cloudy with rain beginning tonight, low, mid 30s. Rain ending Friday but continuing cloudy, high, upper 30s to low 40s. Chance of precipitation, 50 per cent tonight and Friday. Temperatures Wednesday were: high, 38; low, 31.

made by the railway association.

Major features of the legislation include:

—Funding of $2.1 billion for ConRail.

—Authorization of $1.1 billion in funding for improving passenger service, including $900 million for upgrading service on the northeast corridor between Washington and Boston and $200 million for upgrading passenger service on other routes.

—Government guaranteed loans of $2 billion for railroads to help them rebuild their track and equipment.

—Establishment of a $1 billion rail trust fund to provide financial help to railroads.

—Relaxation of federal regulation of railroads, including a provision that will let the rail carriers raise or lower their rates by 7 per cent per year for three years without fear of Interstate Commerce Commission suspension.

—Extension of a federal-local subsidy program designed to keep trains running on lines not included in ConRail.

Russia And China Clash In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Proposals for the United Nations General Assembly to condemn foreign intervention in Angola collapsed Wednesday night after another round of acrimonious debate and a split among the African nations.

Chinese delegate Lai Ya-li called Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik a disciple of Nazi Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels and said Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev "would follow Hitler, Goebbels and the like into the dustbin of history."

Malik said the Chinese Communist government was "an old ally and friend of South Africa and the former Fascist regime of Portugal." He also charged that Chinese military instructors in Angola are "working side by side with agents from the Central Intelligence Agency of the United States."

Cuban Ambassador Ricardo Alarcon called U.S. Ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan a pseudo-professor. He said the Cuban government is helping the Soviet-backed Popular Movement, or MPLA, in the Angolan civil war "with all possible means."

Moynihan told newsmen later that Cuba, "obviously at the Soviet behest," has troops in at least six other African countries in addition to Angola: Congo, Guinea, Guinea-Bissau, Equatorial Guinea, Somalia and South-West Africa.

Left-wing African governments had proposed that the assembly's annual resolution condemning South Africa's racial policies be amended to condemn alleged South African military support of the anti-MPLA forces in Angola.

Moynihan on Monday accused the Soviet Union of trying to "recolonize" Africa by backing the MPLA. And Zaire, which has been supplying U.S. arms to the anti-MPLA forces, proposed an amendment to condemn "certain foreign powers" in addition to South Africa.

The Zaire amendment was opposed by the MPLA's African supporters, including Dahomey, Congo, Guinea, Guinea-Bissau, Madagascar, Mali and Senegal. But they found they did not have enough votes to get their amendment adopted and abruptly announced they were abandoning the Angola issue. Zaire then withdrew its amendment.

The assembly then voted 101 to 15 to condemn South African racism. The resolution also called on South Africa's chief trading partners — the United States, Britain, France, West Germany and Japan — to end their "collaboration."

Sunlight Means Death To Girls

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two young sisters are condemned to a life without sunshine because the sun's rays mean certain death for them.

Terri Addington, 12, and her 10-year-old sister, Lisa, cannot let the sunlight touch them because their bodies are unable to cope with the sun's ultraviolet rays.

"Ultraviolet is harmful to all of us," said Dr. Pete Dosser, a dermatologist and one of several doctors following the girls' case. "But the normal body quickly and easily repairs the damage. The girls' repair mechanisms are faulty."

This results in severe freckling which the girls have suffered since their first year. The freckles later turn into rough, scaly spots which in turn may develop into one of several forms of skin cancer.

Dosser said skin cancer is 100 per cent curable. But victims of the disease called xeroderma pigmentosa get so many tumors so young that just one over-looked lesion can become fatal quickly if it spreads to the blood stream or brain, he said.

There is no known cure for the disease and life expectancy based on the 50 or so previously recorded cases runs from 8 to 15 years.

"About the only form of treatment we know of is absolute avoidance of sunlight and frequent operations to remove the skin tumors as they crop up," Dosser said.

Dosser estimates Terri has had some 200 to 300 skin tumors removed, mostly from her face, neck and arms, during the last seven years.

She has had two major operations for removal of large growths, one the size of a fist, in the last two months, and is scheduled for surgery again Friday.

Lisa has also had several lesions removed, but her case is not as advanced as Terri's was at the same age.

Their parents, Billie Ritchie and Edward Addington, are both carriers of the disease but show none of its symptoms.

The parents were divorced several years ago. Addington has remarried and has a 4-year-old daughter who does not have the disease.

Barred from going outdoors, the world for Terri and Lisa has shrunk to a modest three-bedroom mobile home they share with their mother on Tulsa's east side. Even that world is in jeopardy, however.

Mrs. Ritchie lost her job in a supermarket in October for absenteeism, just three weeks after buying the new home and spending "every cent I could scrape up to make the move."

"The store was real nice about it. I had no hard feelings toward them, but Terri's condition is requiring more and more frequent trips to Children's Medical Center in Oklahoma City."

"Who I am bitter toward is the unemployment office. They told me I wouldn't get any unemployment benefits for seven weeks because I was fired for 'misconduct.' I tried to explain to them why I had to miss work but they didn't care."

Mrs. Ritchie has no medical insurance and the girls are uninsurable, but the medical center is absorbing the cost of their care, she said.

Lebanese Civil War Still Rages

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslem forces closed in today on Christian fighters in the 500-room Holiday Inn, the last obstacle in a leftist drive to take over Beirut's fire-blackened luxury hotels.

A night of the heaviest fighting in Lebanon's eight-month-old civil war brought the Moslem militiamen to within a grenade's throw of the hotel, long a stopping place for businessmen traveling in the Middle East.

The Moslem youths occupied the St. Georges and Phoenicia International Hotels and surrounded the Holiday Inn on three sides. They covered the only escape and resupply route with sniper and machine gun fire.

Young leftist gunmen knocked holes in the walls of surrounding apartment buildings and blasted away with their Soviet-made weapons.

Troops from an 850-man commando unit dispatched to the downtown battleground two days ago pulled out of the Phoenicia, leaving its soot-covered debris to adolescent Moslem street fighters. A charred body lay on the gutted ground floor and at least three more bodies sprawled on upper floors, covered by a layer of black dust.

The heaviest overnight fighting swirled around an office building called the Starco Center, where Christian gunmen of the right-wing Phalange party repelled a Moslem assault to pinch off their lifeline to the besieged Holiday Inn.

Tax Writers Use More Care In Taking Up Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, embarrassed by its approval of the so-called Perot amendment, is taking steps to assure that members of the tax-writing panel are aware of who would benefit from any special tax legislation.

The panel's staff specialists are being directed to advise committee members whether any special tax legislation before the committee would be retroactive and whether it would benefit any particular taxpayer.

Officials made clear the directive was imposed as a result of the committee's approval last month of an amendment that retroactively would have conferred $165 million in special tax refunds to high-income investors, including a reported $15 million for Texas businessman H. Ross Perot.

The Wall Street Journal, which later identified Perot as a major beneficiary of the amendment, said Perot's prospective gain "may be the most gigantic tax break in history for one person." The newspaper disclosed that the amendment was drafted by Perot's lawyer and that Perot had contributed a total of $27,400 to 12 members of the 37-member committee.

Perot later denied the amendment was introduced at his request. He said committee members who voted for the feature "had no way of knowing my interest."

The disclosure of how Perot would have benefited from the measure led Rep. Fortney H. Stark, D-Calif., a Ways and Means member, to say the amendment was "somewhat of an embarrassment to many of us."

Stark said during floor debate on the measure there had never been any evidence before the committee that the amendment was "for the benefit of any one individual." The full House subsequently killed the amendment by a 379 to 27 vote.

Thus, when the committee met Wednesday to take up legislation dealing with special tax issues, the congressmen were given a special staff publication describing the bills and whether any particular individuals would benefit from the proposals.

The tax-cut issue, in which virtually every American taxpayer has a stake, will come to a head late next week when Congress attempts to override Ford's expected veto of a bill extending the temporary tax cuts voted earlier this year.

There are growing indications that the House and Senate will be able to muster the two-thirds majority needed to override the veto. The alternative would be higher taxes in an election year.

Acting a few hours after Ford issued his latest veto threat, the Senate Finance Committee approved its version of the taxcut bill Wednesday. The bill goes to the full Senate on Monday under a timetable that could have it on Ford's desk by next Wednesday or Thursday. The President could issue his veto and Congress could attempt to override it before adjourning on Dec. 19 for the holidays.

Unlike the House-approved tax cut, which extends some tax cuts for one year and others permanently, the Senate bill would extend existing cuts for six months — assuring that Congress will have to deal with taxes again before next July 1 — four months before national elections.

The Senate measure would continue existing tax-withholding rates through next June 30.

After a unanimous show of support from the Senate Democratic Caucus, the Finance Committee settled on the six-month extension in an attempt to avoid the veto fight with Ford. But the President rejected the compromise in advance.

He is insisting that any 1976 tax cut be tied directly to a reduction in federal spending in 1977. The Democratic-controlled Congress insists that to do so would violate its own budget procedures.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market lapsed into a mixed pattern today after the technical rally that began on Wednesday faded.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 1.97 at 832.02, while gainers clung to a 3-2 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the buying interest that lifted the Dow to a gain of close to 10 points Wednesday appeared to have given way to persisting uncertainty over the chances for agreement between the White House and Congress on a measure to extend the 1975 tax cuts into next year.

Texaco was the most active issue on the Big Board, down 1/4 at 23 1/2.

The NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common stocks slipped .03 to 46.37. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .18 at 81.76.

Redford Look-Alike Admits To Hoax

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — They loved Rick Bryson in Dekalb, Ill. Thousands cheered him in Des Moines, Iowa. It all began when someone said, "Pssst, that's Robert Redford."

Bryson was in Dekalb as a booster for the Long Beach State football team when someone mistook him for the movie star.

"I just decided to carry it off," the 30-year-old insurance agent said in an interview Wednesday. "Word spread through the stadium that I was Robert Redford, and at halftime they introduced me."

Bryson had been mistaken for Redford many times before, but he had always denied it. "But what could I do? There were 20,000 fans watching and screaming. I couldn't deny it."

On a recent trip with the football team to Des Moines, Bryson and his friends decided to give the Redford ruse another try.

Wearing a cowboy hat and dark glasses, Bryson checked into a hotel. One of his "promoters" whispered to a bystander, "You know, that's Robert Redford." Phone calls to the hotel asked for Redford.

It worked. Bryson wound up signing hundreds of autographs. He was given special transportation to the hotel, football stadium and airport. The Drake University band paid him a musical salute.

Highway patrol officers protected him from the crowds that gathered wherever he went. Reporters sought his pictures and interviews.

"What amazed me most was how fast the word spread, how the whole stadium got caught up in the masquerade," he said. "Girls actually started crying, trying to get a chance to talk to Redford."

Bryson, married and the father of a son, said he gave autograph hounds his own name, "but my signature is so bad anyway, nobody could tell."

Will he attempt the hoax again?

"Who knows," he said. "I don't want to hurt anyone. But my lawyer says it is not illegal as long as I don't do it for personal gain, so the chances are good that I will try it again."

Bryson said he tried to tell Redford about the masquerade but "when I told his secretary about it, she just laughed. I think she thought it was a prank call."

Customers Asked To Keep Mail Box Approaches Clear

The cooperation of rural and suburban postal customers in helping to keep private roads passable and approaches to mail boxes clear during the coming winter months was requested today by Postmaster Harry L. Payne.

"Postal customers are responsible for keeping approaches to their mail boxes clear of snow and other obstructions that would make mail delivery difficult or impossible," Postmaster Payne said. "People should be aware that failure to clear paths to mail boxes promptly after heavy snows may temporarily prevent carriers from making deliveries. Customers will be contacted if they have an obstructed mail box."

There may also be a need to ask postal customers to relocate their boxes on a new line of travel if excessive and extended detours are necessary, the postmaster said.

"Highway officials are responsible for keeping public roads passable and in good repair," Postmaster Payne said. "But in areas where mail service is provided over roads not maintained by road authorities, the owner of the road is responsible."

Rural and state route carriers will make every reasonable effort to serve the greatest number of customers during severe weather, the postmaster said. "But service on foot when roads are impassable is not required. Also, when state highway authorities or local police consider road travel hazardous, postal service may be curtailed until the inclement weather abates," he said.

The postmaster urged anyone with a question on winter weather road conditions and mail service to contact the Circleville post office.

Goldwater Wants FBI King Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says the Senate intelligence committee should listen to recordings of wiretaps placed by the FBI on Martin Luther King Jr. to determine if the bureau was justified in spying on the late civil rights leader.

Goldwater made his proposal Wednesday during testimony by Clarence M. Kelley, director of the FBI. Kelley told the intelligence committee that the tapes recorded at the orders of the late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover will not be destroyed in the near future.

Kelley said the FBI will keep the tapes until it determines whether it needs to reopen the investigation into King's 1968 assassination.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi is to testify before the committee today on his proposals for curbing abuses by the FBI.

Earlier testimony has indicated that the FBI was used by presidents as a domestic spy agency and that Hoover often assigned agents to compile files on persons in whom he had a personal interest.

In response to Goldwater's proposal, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chairman of the panel, said committee staff members purposely refrained from listening to the FBI's King tapes because they thought that to do so would be a further violation of the late civil rights leader's privacy.

Death Row Inmate Dead

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — A San Quentin Prison inmate awaiting execution for killing five people hanged himself in his cell Wednesday night, authorities said.

Robert Paul Sander, 24, convicted of murdering them at a motel in Smith River, Del Norte County, was found hanging in his cell, which he occupied alone, according to James Ingram, prison officer of the day. He had used a bed sheet for a noose, Ingram said.

Ingram said Sander had undergone psychiatric treatment since coming to prison last September.

Sander, a former Cincinnati department store employee, was sentenced in Redding for the killings in the Ship Ashore Motel.

He remained sullen during the trial and spoke for the first time when the judge asked him to stand during sentencing.

"No, I will not," Sander said.

He had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. He was convicted of spraying .30-caliber bullets from a balcony at the motel.

He was arrested in Grants Pass, Ore., six hours after the shootings

One Hurt In Wreck

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy F. R. McCoy investigated a two-car accident, 8:03 a.m. Wednesday in Williamsport.

Russell D. Keller, 22, Williamsport, pulled from a private drive when he failed to yield, due to obstruction of view by parked vehicles, to a car driven by Deborah D. Williams, 26, New Holland.

Ms. Williams was referred to a doctor for bruises.

Forty-two-year-old Robert W. Gillilan, Route 5, was cited for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, when he wrecked his auto, 1 a.m. today.

According to Deputy Billy Huffman, Gillilan was eastbound on Route 752 when he failed to negotiate a curve and struck a guard rail.

No injuries were reported.

Mrs. Nellie Pickle Dresbach, 99, Hallsville, died 2 p.m. Wednesday at Ross County Medical Center.

Born Sept. 17, 1876, she was the daughter of Samuel and Melinda Stanhope Pickle.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Harland Dresbach, and one son, Marvin Dresbach.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Clyde (Glada) Beougher, Delaware, and several nieces and nephews.

She was a member of Hallsville Community ME Church and United Methodist Women's Unit.

The funeral service will be held 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Hill Funeral Home in Kingston with the Rev. Pat Drewry officiating. Burial will be in Hallsville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 2 p.m. Friday.

4 Marines Are Slain By Explosion

TOKYO (AP) — U.S. military authorities released Thursday the names of the four Marines killed and eight injured in an explosion while they were disposing of old ammunition on Okinawa.

One of the dead was an Okinawan.

The authorities said they were continuing their investigation of the cause of Sunday's explosion, which occurred while the 12 were on a routine mission near an incinerator at a hand grenade and explosive ordnance demolition site at Camp Hansen in central Okinawa.

The dead are: S.Sgt. Richard L. Shryock, 25, of Bartonville, Ill.; Lance Cpl. Larry J. Rigby, 24, of Rockford, Ill.; Sgt. James H. Underwood, 24, of Bryan, Ohio, and S.Sgt. James S. Parrish, 27, of Greenville, S.C.

The injured are: Capt. Micheal L. Baker, 42, of Houston, Tex.; CWO Bernard L. McNay, 39, of Havelock, N.C.; Gunnery Sgt. George E. Reed, 33, of Victorville, Calif.; Sgt. Richard W. Dembeck, 25, of Marathon, N.Y.; Lance Cpl. William D. Smith, 26, of Shreveport, La.; PO 3.C. Roy D. Sotelo, 21, of Fort Worth, Tex.; S. Sgt. Roland D. Moses, 24, of Decatur, Alabama; and Sgt. William P. Fields, 24, whose hometown was not immediately available.

Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center FFA Team Is Successful

PRJVS PARLIAMENTARY TEAM

The Pickaway-Ross FFA Chapter's parliamentary procedure team has been determined as one of the top twelve teams in Ohio after a successful fall of competition.

The team was one of two selected from the sub district contest, held at Westfall High School, on November 18 to enter the district contest. The sub-district is composed of FFA chapters in Pickaway, Ross, Scioto, Pike and part of Highland county.

The team from the Vocational Center then won the district contest held also at Westfall High School, which made them eligible for the state contest. The district is composed of approximately 25 FFA chapters located in Southwestern Ohio.

The state parliamentary procedure contest found twelve district winners competing for the state award. The contest was won by the Northwestern-Clark FFA Chapter, Springfield, Ohio. The teams were rated gold, silver, bronze and honorable mention. The Pickaway-Ross team received a silver rating.

There are over 320 FFA chapters in Ohio, with a membership of over 20,000.

The Pickaway-Ross FFA team was selected from the various agriculture programs at the Vocational Center which include Agri-Business, Agri-Industrial Mechanics, and Horticulture. The team must demonstrate a minimum of parliamentary abilities with three different chairmen presiding. They must conduct the regular FFA closing and opening ceremonies, give committee and officer reports and read the minutes of the meeting, plus at least 6 abilities, within 20 minutes.

Members of this year's team were: Gail West, Tom Knisley, Rick Brown, Sandy Wiseman, Lloyd Armstrong, Rick Laney, Gary Davis, John Mathers, Nick Damico, Kevin Eversizer, Dave Kerns, Dave Evans. The team was trained by advisors: Russ Boley, Jim Dayton, Jim George, Gary Speelman, Fred Tomastik and agricultural program supervisor, Tom Harp.

A Page Of Opinion

Terrorist Threat

Officials of the FBI and other police agencies have expressed concern that the nation's bicentennial year may be the scene of increased terrorist activity by revolutionaries and other fanatics. The campaign of terror already may be underway.

FBI chief Clarence Kelley has informed Congress that the terrorist bombings are on the ascendancy. The federal agency counted 25 such bombings in 1973, 45 in 1974 and 47 in only the first six months of 1975.

"The fanaticism of many of these urban guerrillas and revolutionaries," said Kelley, "makes intelligence penetration difficult."

Perhaps more worrisome to police officials is what Kelley called "the approbation of terrorist activity by otherwise law-abiding citizens, given apparently because of the so-called idealism of the terrorists." If Kelley's assessment is correct, a segment of the non-criminal population is not overly concerned about the existence of terrorists in its midst and may even be giving at least passive assistance to them.

Terrorism as a means to an end — especially when directed at innocent persons, as much of it is — cannot be accepted by any rational person. It might be otherwise in a totalitarian land where redress of grievances and the basic rights of citizens are unrecognized.

That is not the case here. People who engage in acts of depravity in the name of a cause — any cause — deserve apprehension and punishment, nothing more.

Lay That Snow Shovel Down

By PHYLLIS BATELLE

NEW YORK — A recent survey showed that 40 per cent of all Americans consider themselves overweight...and roughly 25 per cent more are overweight but haven't stopped eating long enough to consider it.

These statistics probably will enlarge (along with hips and waistlines) in the coming months, which are known technically as winter and, informally, as the awkward season.

They are awkward months because physical fitness experts warn us to exercise with utmost caution or we'll hear it from our hearts. Shoveling snow is one man's exercise and another man's cardiac or sacroiliac problem. On the workable theory that it's better to gain weight than pass on, physicians urge anyone over 40 to hand the shovel to kids. Since folks over 40 are the more overweight, what can they do to keep fit in winter without problems?

A pamphlet titled, "How to Keep Fit and Like It" is most helpful, in that it assures laggards like myself that strenuous exercise is plain silly — and should be omitted in favor of small, steady spurts of energy every day.

You undoubtedly have read similar lists before, but it's always reassuring to be reminded that running the 100-yard dash is no way to shed a pound. In fact, in order to shed one pound (4,320 calories worth) of body fat, you would have to:

Walk 144 miles at a fast clip; ride a horse for 44 hours; lay 14,781 bricks; launder by hand for 22 hours; play Ping-Pong for 17 1/4 hours; do 5,714 pushups; shovel 114,739 pounds of snow; work 11 eight-hour office days; or think for 2,160 hours about how silly this all is.

So, obviously, serious exercise is not the quick, easy way to lose weight. The booklet points out that most exercise of any consequence may, indeed, increase your appetite and dehydrate you to the point where you'll overeat and drink — and be plumper than ever.

Better, for fitness, is to perform moderate exercises that come naturally and are even enjoyable.

If you are the type who never finds exercise natural or enjoyable, then make a habit of living with "built-in" fitness routines. These are daily bits and pieces of exertion which can become so commonplace that you will become physically fit without even noticing what you're doing:

Start this way:

At night, kick your slippers under the bed. Then, in the morning, get down on hands and knees to pull them out.

If you can still stand after this exercise, always dress (and undress) in an upright position. Wriggling into pants or panty-hose, standing up, is more tricky, and muscle-toning, than you might think.

When you're going to a destination by bus or taxi, make it a habit to get out of the conveyance a few blocks too soon, and walk the rest of the way. Briskly Humming a lively tune helps, suggests the booklet.

Never use an elevator for two floors up or three floors down. Get off on the wrong floor and walk the rest of the way.

Wash and polish the car yourself. This procedure uses most of the same muscles you use in swimming, which is the most overall muscle-toning sport. If you don't own a car, find something else to wash and polish. Cleaning windows, particularly picture windows, is excellent modified exercise.

It goes without saying that, if you can dance around the house of office instead of walk, that would be healthful. If you can squat instead of slump in front of the TV set, you'll keep more limber. If you stand while talking on the phone, rather than sit, your hips will benefit. And through it all, eat moderately and nutritionally: Heavy on the carrot and celery sticks, light on the liquor and sweets.

Of course, there's always a chance that, after they've observed you romping up the stairs and dancing around the office, your friends and co-workers may talk. This is good. Challenge them to a duel. Remember, eight and one-half hours of fencing burns up one pound of fat.

But doctors warn: Don't overdo it and get yourself pierced. That's just too much (literally) to go through...

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "In the past century we built America into history's richest society," said the speaker. "In the next century, we will build in America history's quality society."

The speaker was not the first to articulate what many people now believe and hope will be the underlying theme of the country's third century, the translation of material riches into a better life for people.

Irving S. Shapiro, nevertheless, is perhaps the corporate executive who has most clearly presented the theme in terms of the challenge to business. He is chairman of E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

In an address to the N.Y. Board of Trade a few days ago, Shapiro spoke remarkably clearly about topics on which businessmen often are accused of substituting rhetoric for sincerity, and trying to cover their failures with criticism.

"A lot of good, a lot of sound progress," he said, is going to emerge from our present confrontation with economic realities, the realization that some of our institutions are failing, that energy costs are rising, that inflation is likely to be persistent, that population growth is slowing.

Forced to recognize that the past cannot be the sole model for the future, Americans will use their talents, their dedication, their spirit, their creativity to meet the new challenges, he said.

And what are they? He listed these, among others:

— "We must complete the substantial progress made in our effort toward complete racial and sexual equality of opportunity, so that all individuals can be judged and advanced on the merits of capabilities alone.

— "Industry and communities and individuals must effectively control pollution, where so much tangible progress has already been made.

— "With a more selective investment program, geared to new market demands as well as to capital restraints, we should strive to bring more stability to the economic cycle, moderating the violent gyrations that bring personal hardship to many innocent victims....

— "We must recognize the continuing revolution in consumer expectations, and respond with products of durability, utility and value, fully tested for safety and performance by manufacturers of integrity.

— "Business must get its ethical house in order.... Shoddy ethical and moral performances by a small number of businessmen have tarred all business people."

In seeking such quality goals, "in adjusting to new economic realities," said Shapiro, "I see four specific areas in which business and industry can profitably work to ease our transition to new objectives."

1. "We employers must intensify our sensitivity to the aspirations and personal goals of our people, whose attitudes can help or hamper our economic evolution."

2. Business must develop a more effective content in communicating with the public, the news media and public officials, in order to "moderate misconceptions and overexpectations that plague us."

3. A better working relationship must be built between law and science, "in order to smooth the way for sound technological answers to the new public concerns that are pressing in on industry's future."

4. "We need to sit down with government and on the merits — contributing our best objective exercise — help devise sound programs that will meet the goal of providing better protection for the American public."

Surprise Party Costly

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — An unidentified Akron police sergeant and a would-be benefactor will remember Nov. 23 for some time.

The incident that became public Wednesday occurred that night, the sergeant's birthday. A fellow patrolman, learning that the sergeant in the police department's dispatch center was about to observe another milestone, arranged a surprise.

That night there was a knock on the door of the communications room, the door swung open and a nude woman carried in a birthday cake with the sergeant's hat badge in its center. She offered best wishes of the day, did an impromptu dance and left.

The department's internal disciplinary procedure has ordered the instigator to work seven days off for having arranged the affair. The sergeant has been fined two such days' work for failing to report the incident.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Dec. 11, the 345th day of 1975. There are 20 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, Germany and Italy declared war on the United States.

On this date —

In 1816, Indiana became the 19th state.

In 1848, Louis Napoleon was elected president of France.

In 1936, Edward VIII abdicated as King of England and King George the VI ascended to the throne.

In 1937, Benito Mussolini announced that Italy was withdrawing from the League of Nations.

In 1944, in World War II, German troops under attack by the American 1st Army, retreated across the Roer River.

In 1946, John D. Rockefeller Jr. offered to donate a six-block piece of Manhattan real estate for a headquarters for the United Nations.

Ten years ago: 13 people were killed and 21 injured when fire broke out in a bar in Chicago. It was believed a case of arson.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon picked Texas congressman George Bush to succeed career ambassador Charles Yost as head of the American delegation at the United Nations.

One year ago: Mayor Abraham Beame of New York announced the dismissal of 3,700 city employees — including policemen, firemen, sanitationmen and teachers — and the forced retirement of 2,700 elderly employees to help reduce the city's budget deficit.

Today's birthday: Pro football official George Sauer is 65 years old.

Thought for today: We owe to the Middle Ages the two worst inventions of humanity — gunpowder and romantic love — French writer Andre Maurois, 1885-1967.

Bicentennial footnote: 200 years ago, the Continental Congress voted $3,000 for the support of American agents in Europe.

"I think he'd been drinking."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been told that I have a hiatus hernia. I follow the doctor's orders, but I don't understand the condition. I hate to bother my doctor because of my stupidity.

Mrs. V. L., Tenn.

Dear Mrs. L.: "Stupidity" is the last accusation with which you should be labeled. It is not unusual for patients to be confused by a description of their condition, especially when they are in a state of anxiety.

Rightful concern interferes with the proper communication between the doctor and the patient. You can be certain that your doctor would gladly repeat and clarify what he has told you.

Physicians know that unless patients clearly understand their condition they are less likely to follow the instructions and the regimen of treatment.

The esophagus is a tube that passed from the mouth to the stomach. Food is passed through this conduit.

On the way to joining the stomach the esophagus passes through a normal opening in the diaphragm. In some instances, this opening becomes enlarged and a portion of the stomach may be pulled up through the opening and remain in this abnormal position.

This is known as a "diaphragmatic" or "hiatus" hernia.

Very frequently, a hiatus hernia exists in the elderly without producing any symptoms. During a routine examination of the stomach, this may be found.

Once the person with hiatus hernia knows that this is not a tumor and that it can be controlled with diet and medication, the anxiety level subsides.

I am prone to canker sores of the mouth. Are there any new treatments besides gargles?

Miss E. K., Ohio

Dear Miss K.: Canker sores, or "aphthous" ulcers, are caused by a virus. It is rare to pinpoint the one of many viruses responsible for this painful condition.

Poor dental hygiene may be one of the causes. The tendency to bite the inside lining of the mouth may be another.

Badly fitting dentures can be a cause, too.

An infinite number of forms of treatment have been tried. None are completely effective in all instances.

Two products, Lactinex and Vacid, contain the lacto bacillus that helps to sour milk. Sometimes, taking these tablets may reduce the frequency, the severity and the duration of these unpleasant sores.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor: Something to consider at Christmas time.

The world records time as the year 1975. The circumstances of how this happened can easily be explained but the fact remains time is recorded from the Birth of Jesus Christ. Did this just happen?

During the Christmas season we see a great display of lights; much more than at any other time of the year: could this be a testimony of mankind; whether or not he is conscious of it; to the light of the world.

"Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." John 8:12

In our great country it is a time for exchanging gifts but God offers the greatest gift of all —

"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life". John 3:16

A card manufacturer asks this question; do you care enough to send your very best? God did!

"Isn't this great gift from God what Christmas is all about?"

Sincerely Yours,
GEORGE E.
LEATHERWOOD

Ashville, Ohio 43103

Dear Editor: Today, two hundred years after the birth of the United States, we believe the time has come for all Americans to reflect, to remember what this country was intended to be and to assess what it has become.

One of the recognized reasons for the greatness of America is that it is blessed with a natural and varied abundance, and, as this variety is in material riches, natural beauty, and climatic differences, in nothing is this abundance more obvious than in the diversity of America's human genius.

Since its early history, America has been known as the land of the rugged individualist, the good samaritan, the trailblazing pioneer. The volunteer has always been an integral part of the American scene, the fountainhead of progress. Through his imagination, hard work, and self-reliance, America as a whole has benefited.

The American founders took pains to design good society — a humane, responsible society in which helping hands reached out to people. As a frontier society accustomed to interdependence, America developed a genius for solving common problems. People joined together in bewildering combinations to found cities, schools, churches, co-ops, hospitals. To see a need was, more often than not, to promote a scheme to meet it better than had ever been done before.

The more we study history, the more we realize that the success of a nation is measured by the small fraction of its people who step out from the ranks and place themselves at the service of all. These are the men and women who have the insight to recognize what needs to be done and what the unimpaired reward will be.

Today's problems may seem different, but underneath the need is similar to love one's country wisely, to see all individuals as the children of God, to open one's eyes to the lessons of nature, to live a life of probity, and not to neglect the things of the spirit.

Monkey Bites Cat Burglar

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Leland Fuller doesn't think the burglars who visited her home Wednesday will monkey around there again. She said she thinks her 20-pound pet monkey, Stymy, sank his sharp teeth into one burglar's leg.

Mrs. Fuller said she surprised two burglars when she arrived at her West Side home about 6 p.m. and ordered Stymy to go after them.

The monkey lunged at one of the fleeing men, said Mrs. Fuller, and came back with blood on his teeth.

She said the burglars got away with tools and jewelry valued at about $1,500.

Police were keeping tabs on hospitals to see if anyone checked in for treatment of a bad monkey bite.

Defiance College in Ohio got its name for a remark by Gen. Anthony Wayne who had said, when he first built a fort there, that he defied the Devil to take it.

Tax Work Pushed Despite Veto Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee is racing to write a bill continuing $13 billion in individual income tax cuts for another six months, even though members are convinced President Ford will veto any measure they approve.

Congressional leaders want to get the bill to Ford as quickly as possible so the Senate and House can attempt to override his expected veto before adjourning Dec. 19 for the holidays.

If Congress is unable to override

Justices Expand Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court says police can resume questioning a criminal suspect who has invoked his right to remain silent as long as they "scrupulously honor" his right to end the interrogation at any time.

In a 6 to 2 decision Tuesday, the court said the landmark Miranda ruling in 1966 does not mean that a suspect who exercises his right to silence "can never again be subjected to custodial interrogation by any police officer at any time or place on any subject."

In fact, the court said, police may resume questioning in a matter of hours as was done in the Michigan case that prompted the decision.

But the court cautioned that the Miranda rules also do not "permit a resumption of interrogation after a momentary respite."

Either extreme "would lead to absurd and unintentional results," the justices said. But they laid down no further guidelines to say how police must wait before resuming interrogation after a suspect has exercised his right to remain silent.

When questioning resumes, the suspect must again be given the opportunity to exercise his right to remain silent at any point, the court declared.

Justices William J. Brennan and Thurgood Marshall dissented, arguing that the majority decision represents a step toward erosion of the court's attempts to protect a suspect from self-incrimination.

The landmark Miranda decision, issued by the late Chief Justice Earl Warren, required police to advise a suspect of his right to remain silent and his right to counsel and to warn him that anything he might say to police could be used against him in court.

Ford's veto, American wage earners would begin feeling the bite of higher taxes in January.

Ford and the Democratic-controlled Congress agree on the need to continue this year's tax cut, but Ford wants to impose a $395-billion ceiling on federal spending for 1977.

Democrats generally contend such a ceiling is not possible so far in advance of the start of the fiscal year under new congressional budget procedures. But those procedures require that a spending limit for fiscal 1977, which begins next Oct. 1, be set by May 15.

Therefore, the Finance Committee will attempt to extend this year's tax cuts through June 30. At that time, the cut could be renewed for the remainder of 1976 and a spending lid imposed for 1977.

The six-month tax cut extension is aimed not only at appeasing those conservatives who want to cut federal spending but at drawing support from a liberal bloc, led by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that seeks to close loopholes that allow the wealthy to avoid a large share of their taxes.

Kennedy told the Finance Committee he would be willing to delay consideration of most of the tax-revision proposals approved by the House if the Senate were allowed to vote this year on tightening two such loopholes: the minimum tax on the wealthy and a section that allows owners of some property to escape estate taxation.

Committee Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., insists there is no way the Senate can vote on such tax revisions until hearings are held. But he has promised his committee will consider such action before next July.

Solon Raps State Ban On Booze

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A drink with dinner should be an allowable item on state employees' travel-expense accounts, says a Cleveland-area legislator, who calls the state ban on booze "hypocritical."

"State employees, individually or as a class, are no different than employees in the private sector," says Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-16 Shaker Heights. "Some have beer, a martini, a glass of wine or a cordial with their meals. Some have tomato or cranberry juice. Some have soup. Some have all three. Some have nothing."

Lehman made the remarks at a rulemaking hearing of the Office of Budget and Management, which is considering an increase in daily transportation, meal and lodging expenses.

The current 12 cents per mile for gas would go up to 16 cents and the $25 a day for motel and meal costs would be hiked to $30 if the new rates are approved. But the policy of not reimbursing employees for drinks, even within the specified per diem expense limit, would be continued.

Diabetes Growing, Data Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new National Commission on Diabetes said today the disease may have become the nation's third-ranking killer.

"Last year 38,000 persons died directly from diabetes, and there is strong evidence that perhaps as many as 300,000 deaths could be attributed to diabetes and its complications," the commission said. "This would make diabetes the third-ranking cause of death, after heart disease and cancer."

In its first report to Congress, the 17-member commission urged that federal funds for diabetes research be tripled by fiscal 1979.

"Diabetes is a major health problem directly affecting 10 million Americans," the commission said. "The prevalence of the disease is increasing rapidly."

The economic toll of the disease is estimated at $5.3 billion a year, while federal spending for research into treatment and prevention amounted to only $43 million last year, the report said.

The introduction of insulin therapy for diabetics helps control but does not cure the disease, which can cause blindness and kidney and heart complications, the report said.

A World War II song paid tribute to Navy Chaplain Howell M. Forgy, 1932 Muskingum College graduate, who at Pearl Harbor had shouted "Praise the Lord—and pass the ammunition."

That policy, Lehman argues, represents a double standard in a state that profited by more than $75 million last year from sales of alcoholic beverages and took in another $68 million from taxes on liquor, beer and wine.

"Let us eliminate the ridiculous conflict between the state as the seller of liquor, on one hand, and as the employer who prohibits reimbursement of employees for purchase of alcoholic beverages on the other hand," Lehman told the hearing.

"I urge you to let the employee determine what his meal shall consist of in the same manner that we permit him to determine what hotel or motel he shall stay at."

Lehman, the outspoken and influential chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, says a change in the policy would also "eliminate the falsification of expense statements that we suspect takes place." And he said it would close an open invitation to high-rolling lobbyists more than willing to buy drinks for state workers.

Robert Howarth, the budget office hearing examiner disagreed, saying "the state has other things to do with its money than buy drinks for its employees."

In general, Howarth echoed the standing policy of Gov. James A. Rhodes, who maintains that state business never required purchase or consumption of alcohol.

Rhodes, who is known to be fond of tomato juice and soup but rarely drinks—and then only a taste of beer—recently warned his cabinet officers not to tolerate serving liquor on state property for employee Christmas parties.

News Of Interest To Women

6 The Circleville Herald, Thursday December 11, 1975

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Beam will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary from 2-4 p.m. Sunday at Snow Hill Country Club near Wilmington with a reception hosted by their sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beam, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Beam, and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Beam. The couple has resided in Port William since marriage and Mr. Beam is engaged in farming. Mrs. Beam has the Dec. 23, 1925 issue of the Circleville Daily Union-Herald in which an account of the wedding was printed. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell. The couple requests no gifts.

Salem Church Women Conduct December Meeting

Women of Salem United Methodist Church held their December meeting in the home of Mrs. Darl McAfee, Route 1, Kingston.

Mrs. McAfee opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Relis Hildenbrand read scripture from the book of Luke. Members sang Christmas carols led by Mrs. Ira Barr and Mrs. Ralph Ankrom read the story about the origin of the Christmas hymn, "Silent Night" which members sang to the accompaniment of Mrs. Delbert Poling on the guitar.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. McAfee it was reported 25 calls on sick persons were made during the past month. Members were reminded to send cards to shut-ins during the holiday season. Gifts were brought to the meeting to give for game prizes at nursing homes.

Mrs. McAfee told about delivering a basket for Thanksgiving and how much it was appreciated by the family receiving it. Mrs. Delbert Poling and Mrs. Robert Nothstine reported on the fruit plates given in the community. Both projects were successful.

Mrs. Ira Barr concluded the meeting with a Christmas poem and refreshments were served to 14 members and two guests, Mrs. Gerald Patrick and Miss Patty Ankrom.

Wedding Plans Are Completed

Plans have been completed for the open church wedding of Miss Beezie Anderson and Danny Conley, 2:30 p.m., Saturday at Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church.

The Rev. L. S. Metzler will officiate the ceremony to be followed with a reception in the social room of the church.

Sorority Program Presented By Mrs. Benton Patterson

Dozens of holiday cookies were exchanged by members of Xi Eta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Sorority during a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Jerry Walters, 981 Lynwood Ave.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Brent Rhodes, vice-president, with 12 members present. Plans were finalized for the Christmas carry-in dinner to begin 6:30 p.m., Dec. 16, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutton, 1980 Chippewa Drive. Husbands are invited and everyone is to bring a gift for exchange.

Mrs. Benton Patterson presented the evening's program, "Vive La Difference!" The relationship between the sexes was discussed with a report given on the biological differences between males and females.

Junior Women Adopt Family For Christmas

Circleville Junior Women's Club held its Christmas meeting Thursday in the home of Nellie Gibson, Wintergreen Hill. Following the pledge and invocation, the junior pledge and club collect were read by Diana Jones. Roll call was answered by 32 members and four associates.

Willie Ehrlich, president, thanked the hostesses, Melanie Shuter, Pam Long, Diane Adkins, Paula Kingsley and Sally Thomerson.

Norma Myers reported the home life committee had completed plans to adopt a family for Christmas. A donation of canned goods and toys was collected.

The business session was followed by an auction of craft items and baked goods made by members. Some of the items were a macrame hanging planter, pen and ink drawing, crewl work, Christmas decorations, patchwork wreath, gingerbread doll and other stuffed toys, candles, crafts and a selection of foods and baked goods.

Announcement was made of a board meeting to be held Jan. 5, in the home of Diana Jones.

High Court Upholds Liens On Homes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In a decision which could affect all Ohioans who buy or build homes, the Supreme Court ruled today that mortgage banks have no strict obligation to their customers to protect against the filing of liens on newly constructed homes.

The liens in question were "mechanic's liens" which can force homeowners to pay twice for their houses.

In a 5-2 decision, the court held that the homeowner is responsible for protecting himself from unscrupulous contractors who fail to pay construction bills, thus leaving the completed home open to court seizure.

The decision involves a section of state law which allows subcontractors—plumbers, electricians and so on—to file liens against a house to assure their bills are paid.

If a homeowner pays the general contractor for the work, but the general contractor fails to pay the subcontractors, the subcontractors can force the homeowner to either pay a second time or to forfeit their home.

A bill is pending in the legislature to remove home construction contracts from the general scope of mechanic's liens. The bill has passed the House and is awaiting consideration in the Senate.

That was what happened to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cottrill of Fairfield, who took out a $47,000 mortgage from Dollar Federal Savings and Loan Association for a new home in 1969.

The money was paid to the general contractor, Taylor and Associates. But subcontractors, claiming Taylor did not pay their bills, filed suit after the house was completed to foreclose on their liens.

The Cottrills claimed that Dollar Federal was liable as their agent since it had inspected the premises and then wrote the checks to the contractor. The Cottrills claimed that Dollar Federal was obligated to make sure Taylor paid the subcontractors.

The 1st District Court of Appeals agreed, overruling a trial court decision. But in the Supreme Court ruling today, the state's high court said Dollar Federal was under no such obligation.

Athens County Sheriff Probes 3 Slayings

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The Athens County Sheriff's Department today was trying to piece together a motive for the shootings at a rural house south of Amesville Wednesday night that left three persons dead and another wounded.

Authorities identified the dead as John Mayle, 19, and Richard Jago, 23, who lived at the address where the shootings occurred, and Ralph Parry, 19, who lived about two miles away.

The injured man was identified as John Mitchell, 26, a neighbor of Mayle and Jago. He was listed in good condition with three gunshot wounds at University Hospital, Columbus.

Sheriff Paul Brown said that Parry, who reportedly was home on leave from the Marine Corps, was found dead in his car a short distance from the house where the shootings occurred, wearing full combat uniform with a bandolier of ammunition.

Brown said a rifle, handgun and wire garrote were found in Parry's car.

According to the sheriff, Mitchell told authorities he heard gunshots, grabbed a pistol, stepped outside and saw Parry in the yard of his neighbors' house.

Mitchell reportedly said that Parry fired at him and he returned the fire. Parry reportedly then staggered to Mayle's car, started off and crashed in a nearby farm yard.

Brown said Parry was carrying Mayle's identification.

Mayle's body was found in the front yard of his house. Jago was found inside on the living room floor.

Water Supply Cleanup Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state attorney general's office has been asked to enforce an Ohio Environmental Protection Agency order requiring Catawba Township in Ottawa County to clean up its water supply.

The original order was issued in December 1972, the EPA said.

Tests in April and August showed a high percentage of the township's drinking water still was contaminated, the agency said.

Utilities Formula Defended At Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A University of Michigan economist has defended the present method of calculating utility rates as a modern approach to the "fundamental economic problem" of inflation.

The extensive testimony before a House utilities subcommittee Wednesday marked one of the opening salvos in what is expected to be an all-out effort by the utility industry to defeat a bill that would change the rate base formula.

"Ohio utilities are not profiteering

Retail Sales Gains Noted For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Automotive and other durable goods dominated retail sales gains in Ohio in October, the Ohio State University Center for Business and Economic Research says.

Those sales marked the fourth consecutive monthly increase, the center said, rising 3.9 per cent over September and 8 per cent over the same period a year earlier.

Among 25 types of businesses surveyed, 11 had increases over October 1974, 13 showed decreases and state liquor store results were about unchanged.

Automobile dealers said sales were up 26 per cent in October, and household appliance, television and radio stores said sales were up 20 per cent.

Fuel sales plummeted 76 per cent during the month, and hay, feed and garden stores felt a 35 per cent decline.

For the first 10 months of 1975, 13 of the 25 businesses increased sales and 12 decreased over the first 10 months of 1974, the center said.

Drug store business improved most at 12 per cent, followed by grocery stores and restaurants at 8 per cent. Fuel dealers (-41 per cent) and heating-plumbing dealers (-22 per cent) had the largest declines from the year before.

The center said October business improved over October 1974 in 10 of the state's 11 major city-county areas surveyed during the first 10 months, including strong improvements in Toledo, Dayton, Akron, Columbus and Cincinnati. Nine out of 11 showed increases for the 10 months compared to the same period a year earlier.

Boy Dies In Blaze

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)— Charles Beaudoin, 13, died in a fire at his home Wednesday in suburban Chautauqua, Carlisle Volunteer firemen reported. The cause of the fire was not determined.

now under the current law and there is no room to lower utility rates under the proposed changes," said Patricia J. Shontz, a business professor and director of publications at Michigan.

"No matter how rates are calculated, all costs, including the cost of attracting new capital, must be paid."

Ohio gas, electric and telephone rates are determined by a Reconstruction Cost New (RCN) formula which permits utilities to reevaluate their original costs of their plants at current market values. This "trending up" is tempered by a depreciation factor but opponents argued last week that the net result "is a valuation of up-to-date prices on out-of-date properties."

The proposed alternative is an original cost plan that would set rates based on the actual costs incurred by a company in delivering service, without updating the value of original capital investments.

"To think of changing the Ohio utility rate law from RCN to original cost," said Mrs. Shontz, "is to pretend that each of us should be paid 1945 wages while we pay 1975 prices."

She said states using original cost calculations, such as Michigan, are forced to "dress up" the formula with gimmicks so utilities can keep pace with inflation.

"In effect," she argued, "RCN is the modern approach to rate-making because inflation is the current and future problem and because financial results lose all meaning without recognizing adjustments for inflation."

She said the current formula helped Ohio utilities to continue expansion and provide customer services.

Mrs. Shontz, who read from a 17-page statement and supplied the lawmakers with a 33-page background report, appeared on behalf of all major Ohio utilities, an Ohio Bell spokesman said. Her fee will be pooled, he added.

Most consumer groups want RCN abolished because of the subjectivity involved in calculating rates through a formula so complex that most laymen cannot comprehend it.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, which regulates rates, has endorsed repeal of RCN which is used in its pure form only in Ohio.

Lebanon Man Held In Slaying

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)— Anthony Bullock, 23, Lebanon, Ohio, is being held on a charge of murder in the Wednesday evening slaying of Fred Lakes, 29, of Middletown, on Lakes' own front porch.

Lt. Ernest Howard said the shooting occurred during an argument.

Bullock surrendered to police after returning to the scene, Howard said.

The Rev. Jacob Lehman and his wife Evelyn opened their home for the December meeting of the Women's Society of the Trinity United Methodist Church on last Thursday evening. Mrs. Orville Kempton, president, presided.

Mrs. Lehman gave the opening prayer, and the group sang "Silent Night." Mrs. Marie Rice read the minutes of the last meeting. It was voted to give $100 toward the church furnace fund and a gift of money was also given to the committee in charge of giving clothing to the needy.

The Christmas Contata will be presented on Sunday evening, at the church with a social hour following.

The Christmas Spirit was the theme of the program presented by Rev. Lehman who related the story of the lost sheep. He also told of his own best Christmas. The closing prayer was by Rev. Lehman.

The January meeting will be Jan. 2 instead of the first Thursday which is New Year's night.

Refreshments were served to 17 members.

Funeral services for Berman L. Poling, 73, of Columbus were held on Monday in the Christian Center Church of Columbus with Bill Swad officiating.

Mr. Poling, who died Thursday in Doctor's Hospital, was a retired baker of the American Baking Company and a member of the Christian Center Church.

He and his family were formerly residents of the Pleasant Ridge community.

He was the son of the late Wesley and Orpha Poling of Route 2, Laurelville.

His survivors are his wife, the former Mary Stevens; two daughters, Mrs. Charles West (Garnet) and Mrs. Eugene Fields (Donna); three sons, Robert L., Virgil, and Melvin all of Columbus; 17 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Interment was in Glen Rest Cemetery.

Word has been received from the widow of Clarence E. Swackhammer whose death was mentioned last week, which gives the details of his funeral. The services were held in the Crobaugh Funeral Home in Euclid, on Nov. 26 with the Rev. Richard G. Matchette officiating. Burial was in Knollwood Cemetery, Mayfield Heights.

He had been in ill health for several years.

He graduated in 1927 from Ohio University, Athens, and received his masters degree from Columbia University in 1933. He was the retired head of the Physical Education Department of Euclid High School and was wrestling, track, football and basketball coach and official for 35 years.

The son of the late Charles A. (Bert) and Mary Catherine (Kate) Swackhammer, he is survived by his wife, Laura, daughter Carolyn (Betty) Lehman and son William C. (Bill); grandchildren, Elizabeth, Charles, Catherine and Laura Lehman.

Mrs. Edith Austin of Lancaster and Celesta Hoy of Laurelville attended the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Mae (Turner) Lynn in the Heinlein Funeral Home, Logan, on Sunday afternoon.

She was the daughter of the late Roy and Doris Ankrom Turner of near Logan.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Clarence (Grace) Allison; a niece Martha Allison; two nephews, Dean and Pat Allison, all of Route 2, Logan; and a foster sister, Mrs. Ida (Ankrom) Moravy of Mt. Pleasant, Mich., who was raised in the Turner home.

Mrs. Lynn was preceded in death by her husband John. Burial was made in the McArthur cemetery.

Mrs. Danny (Rosemary) DeLong entered Grant Hospital on Monday for surgery.

C. B. Chilcote is a patient in University Hospital where he underwent surgery for removal of a cataract.

Our old friend and neighbor Charlie Reynolds is a patient in the Brown Memorial Nursing Home, Circleville. Let's all send Charlie a card.

Mrs. Nelle Swackhammer was treated in the emergency room at Berger Hospital Friday night for a lacerated scalp suffered in a fall at her home.

Mrs. Cora (Hartsaugh) Harsh of Rt. 2, Logan, who has been a patient in Hocking Valley Community Hospital for some time was brought to Fox Nursing Home on Sunday.

Margaret Johnson, Charlotte Ash and Johnny Johnson of Laurelville, Violet (Johnson) Parsons of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dillie of Circleville and Jack Binkley of Columbus called at the Meyers Funeral Home in Groveport on Nov. 30 to see their uncle, Johnny Smith, who died Nov. 28 at his home in Columbus at the age of 84.

He is survived by his wife Rhoda Vickers Smith of Columbus and one brother, Forest Smith of Laurelville.

Clarence Radcliff and Mrs. Paul (Pansy Wiggins) Radcliff attended the funeral on Monday. Burial was in Allensville.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Berman Disbennett of Pleasant Ridge Road were Mrs. Nelson Hardin and son Jim of Logan.

Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons, Kim, Kris and Randy of Kingston were Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George Ash, Rita and Dave of Laurelville and Mr. and Mrs. George Ash Jr. and son Michael of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ash, daughter Cheryl and Shannon left Langley AFB, Va. on Friday and arrived Saturday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ash in Laurelville. Bob is home after spending six years in the Air Force. They were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Ash's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt of Adlephi.

Mrs. Stanley Noggle were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dufford, (Catherine Lehman) and family of Columbus. The ladies spent the afternoon Christmas shopping. Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Noggle visited her sister and brother-in-law, Marvin and Agness Eveland of South Bloomingville. Agnes is still suffering with her ankle which had both bones broken a few weeks ago.

There is likely a lot of cold medicine being taken this week by persons who attended the Rhil sale last Saturday in a steady downpour of rain. I have been taking my share of cold remedies when I can stop sneezing long enough to swallow.

Mrs. Inez Lowery spent last week with relatives in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Foltz of Columbus

METTA LARKS — The Metta Larks Quartet will present its annual Christmas concert on Sunday at the Hedges Chapel United Methodist Church. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will feature both sacred and popular Christmas music. The hour-long program will include two original Christmas skits written by the group. A free-will offering will be taken with the proceeds being donated to Operation Rudolph which benefits needy families of Pickaway County during the holiday season. The public is invited to attend the concert. Members are shown above from left to right: Carolyn Lutz, Metta Dill, Lois Schiff and Louise Barr. The group will also perform in concert at the Ringgold Methodist Church on Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Woman's Death 9 Months Old?

McCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Morgan County coroner says a 63-year-old woman, whose body was found Wednesday at a rural house in which her husband still lived, may have been dead for nine months.

Coroner A.A. Colson, said he is awaiting an autopsy report on the body from Cincinnati.

Morgan County Sheriff Paul Work said Pauline Boggs' body was discovered after neighbors reported to deputies that the woman had not been seen for nine months.

The sheriff said the body was in a bed, wrapped in bed clothing.

The sheriff's office said the woman's husband, John, 74, was being questioned, but no charges had been filed.

Deputies said they found trash and litter throughout the house, piled four feet high in places.

Holiday Season Sees Increase In Shoplifting, Drunk Driving

By BOB BENSONHAVER
Herald Staff Writer

Although one shudders to even think the thought, it's almost safe to say that the Christmas, New Year, drunken driving and shoplifting are synonymous. And most law authorities will agree, at least according to statistics.

As to how many drunk driving arrests, (OMVI, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs) or shoplifting charges there will be, "I don't really know," says Municipal Court Judge Charles Hosterman. This is Judge Hosterman's first holiday season serving on the bench.

"It's not necessarily around Christmas that you have so many drunken drivers," Hosterman noted, "It's the parties in the weeks leading up to Christmas and New Year's."

The Municipal Judge added that the area hasn't had any real pro shoplifters and really doesn't expect any. "But, if we do, we'll come down hard on them," he stated.

Since many of the businesses are located in the city limits, any shoplifting offense would be investigated by the Circleville Police Department.

According to Sgt. Larry Pontious, the biggest percentage of shoplifters are teenagers between 13-17 years of age. "The kids take small items, girls take makeup and boys take records or cigarettes."

The second largest group of shoplifters would be middle-age women. "It's hard to tell what they would take," Pontious reported, "They take anything from makeup to hams."

Pontious also added, that the department arrests only about 10 per cent of the shoplifters.

According to previous investigations by Pontious, stores are the biggest help to shoplifters. "The stores aren't set up properly, it's too accessible to shoplift," he stated, "And they don't have good security systems."

"That's true," say officials in one local department store, "The only clearcut way to stop shoplifting is to put everything under lock and key." Most large department stores in Circleville are self serve stores and items are out in the open available to the customer to serve himself.

One local store has security guards who have the right to arrest persons caught in the act of shoplifting.

The Christmas season shows the biggest jump in shoplifting according to local store managers. And, according to local statistics, shoplifting goes up about 50 per cent.

Sgt. Pontious also added that bad checks usually increase during the Christmas season, especially ones written on insufficient funds.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff agreed that there is quite a large amount of shoplifting in the discount stores.

"People see things happen, such as shoplifting," Radcliff stated, "but are afraid to take a stand against these offenders."

Under the Ohio Revised Code, shoplifting is classified under theft, which could constitute petit or grand theft, depending on the value of the item. Petit theft is a misdemeanor, however, if it is a second offense, it automatically becomes a felony.

One store manager concluded that

EYES ARE WATCHING YOU — A local department store watches its shoppers from pin-pointed areas enabling them to catch shoplifters. One source estimated that $50 worth of tapes were taken weekly from the store before installation of newly locked cases. The manager of one store says his company will prosecute shoplifters.

his company will prosecute anybody caught in the act of shoplifting.

Drunk Driving
Drinking and driving has become the nation's number one social problem, according to statistics. And, as sad as it seems, the Christmas season is one of the two worst times of the year for law enforcement officers.

Lt. D. S. Kohn of Highway Patrol Post 65 stated that there is usually a drop in the amount of arrests for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs during the month of December.

In December, 1973, 26 arrests were made and 29 in 1974. However, according to statistics compiled by Lt. Kohn, 1975 has seen an overall increase in OMVI arrests. The only months showing a minimal decrease were June, August and October.

Another example, in November of 1973 there were 32 arrests, 38 arrests were made in 1974 and 53 in 1975, which verifies the increase noted by Kohn.

"But," Kohn added, "the problem is year round and not just Christmas or New Year's. December's arrests will probably be in the 30s," he concluded.

For the city, it's a different story. Arrests for OMVI during December usually double according to Sgt. Pontious citing statistics from the past three years. He stated the reasons for the increase are people, from the week before Christmas to and including New Year's, traveling to and from parties where alcohol is served.

During December of 1974, the city made 18 OMVI arrests, where other months, it would be as low as four and as high as 10 arrests. And, mainly because of drunk drivers, December has the highest ratio for auto accidents. "Bad weather, drinking and driving just don't mix," Pontious concluded.

Sheriff Radcliff noted that there has been an increase in OMVI arrests during December of 1973 and 1974, but no doubling of statistics. He feels also that there will be an increase, but how much he couldn't say.

"All I can do is urge those persons who are going to drink, not to drive, but it's up to the individual to heed the warning," Radcliff stated.

It's quite obvious that Christmas and New Years are a highly joyous and celebrated time of the year. But, from a negative point of view, it can quickly be spoiled, whether intentionally or unintentionally, by someone who fails to realize how much alcohol his body can absorb.

If one is arrested for OMVI, it may

LE Cooks Hold Annual Get Together

The Logan Elm District Cooks Club met Monday evening at the Poland House in Chillicothe for their annual Christmas Party. Cooks from each school in the district had a part in the program, which consisted of the Christmas Story from the Living Bible, games, contests and readings.

A delicious dinner and a gift exchange was enjoyed by the 22 cooks and 4 substitutes.

The cooks presented their supervisor Jewell Hinton with a gift certificate from Sharrifs. Ceramic tree ornaments, made by Mrs. Hinton, were used for favors for each cook. June Poling made beautiful place setting cards from old Christmas cards.

Miss Karen Walters, state certification chairman will meet with the group on Jan. 12 at the McDowell School with a program to earn credits toward certification.

Jobless Claims Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unemployment compensation claims in Ohio rose at the beginning of December, the Bureau of Employment Services said Wednesday.

Initial claims under state and federal programs went to 26,214 for the week ended Dec. 6, slightly more than half the amount for an average week in December 1974. Applicants for unemployment benefits rose for the third week, with 21,866 persons asking for first-time compensation the week ended Nov. 29.

Continuing benefits were also on the rise, with an expectation of increases to follow. For the week ended Nov. 29, 134,107 received compensation for one week or more compared to 131,686 the previous week. The bureau estimated 144,500 would be paid compensation for the week ended Dec. 6.

Ohio's unemployment rate in October was 7.8 per cent of the workforce.

Claims under extended payment programs for the unemployed remained steady.

The hike in initial claims was divided between the eight major metropolitan areas and the other counties. In the eight large counties, unemployment applications went from 9,439 to 11,683 in one week while in the other counties, claims went from 12,427 to 15,531.

Hurricane Moves Into Tigertown Friday

Wilmington will bring a young but experienced ball club with plenty of size into Circleville Friday night to meet the Tigers on the high school court.

The Hurricane will be attempting to break the Red and Black win streak and drop the Tigers out of a tie for first place in the South Central Ohio League.

Circleville is 2-0 in league play and 3-0 overall while Wilmington stands 1-1 in the SCOL and 1-2 for the season.

Both teams are about evenly matched in the scoring department with the Tigers averaging 73.5 points per game and the Hurricane putting 72 markers per game on the scoreboard.

But the big difference is in the defensive end of the game where Wilmington is allowing 70.5 points a game while the sticky Tiger defense is limiting the opponents to a game average of 47 markers.

"Wilmington is an outstanding offensive team with excellent size, speed, quickness and shooting ability," Circleville coach Jim Bailey commented.

"Our scouts report that Wilmington is 30 points better than they were last year at this time. They are an experienced club despite the fact that they only start one senior. They also have one of the outstanding players in the league in Tony Berlin who is an outstanding outside shooter."

The Hurricane's basic offensive alignment is a double guard set with a stack left and they like to go to the offensive boards.

They will vary their defenses and have been quite effective with a full court man to man and a 1-3-1 trap. They also use a 1-2-1-1 full court with inbounds pressure.

Starters for the Hurricane will be: Steve Hart, 6-foot-1, junior; Gary Williams, 6-foot-4, sophomore; Dale Achtemann, 6-foot-2½, senior; Tony Berlin, 6-foot-3, junior; Tony Haley, 6-foot-3, junior.

The Tigers offensive effort will be to continue to move the ball and play for the game shot which has kept them in good stead. They will continue to play their tight defense that has been a big factor in their first three games.

The Tiger starters will be: Mike McCoy, 5-foot-9, senior, and Frank Merrill, 6-foot, junior, at the guards; George Moore, 6-foot-3, senior, at center; Biff Bumgarner, 5-foot-11, senior, and Tom McGuire, 6-foot-1½, junior, at the forwards.

Warren Yamarick, 5-foot-8, Rusty Holbrook, 5-foot-10, and Jeff Williams, 6-foot, will be coming off the bench while coach Bailey feels that Brian Fath and Tom Taylor are now ready to move into the lineup as needed.

"Our overall defensive effort against Greenfield was our best effort to date and offensively we were solid against their zone defense and showed poise and patience in getting high percentage shots against a good Greenfield team," coach Bailey stated.

"We had an exceptional effort from George Moore on both ends of the floor who not only scored 23 points and came up with four steals but held Greenfield's fine center, Steve Harvey, to six points.

"Biff Bumgarner turned in another solid performance despite being out all week with the flu. The heady play of Mike McCoy was certainly a bright spot as he provided us with the floor generalship that we have been looking for," Bailey said.

"Frank Merrill displayed a lot of hustle and came up with five steals while Warren Yamarick came off the bench and added spark for us." The game was decided in the third quarter when our fast break and pressure broke the game open."

"I feel that the excellent scouting job that Coach Jim Diltz did on Greenfield had to be one of the keys to our victory," Bailey concluded.

Other SCOL games Friday night will be: Hillsboro at Miami Trace; Unioto at Madison Plains; Greenfield at Washington C.H.

Sparky Anderson Plays Off Umpires

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)— Cincinnati Reds Manager Sparky Anderson readily admits that he argues with umpires "longer than I should and I try to pit one umpire against the other."

"If I pit them against each other and hear three or four different stories, then I know they are lying," said Anderson, who was one of the managers labelled a "crybaby" by umpires in a recent poll taken by "The Sporting News."

"I want to hear the stories, catch them individually, then tell them together what each one told me."

"Sure I put words in their mouths. I work them one against another. They will always cross themselves up and I try to confuse them."

"I know the rules. I knew them as well as anyone. That's to my advantage. They can't go spouting rules at me because I know them as well as they do."

One umpire in the poll noted, "I don't think Sparky's really objective. He tries to intimidate everybody, even if he's leading 8-1."

Another umpire said, "Sparky always wants to carry on his arguments beyond a logical conclusion."

Says the Reds skipper: "I agree with a lot they say."

Anderson has had his share of confrontations with umpires, starting with the 1970 World Series when Ken Burkhart called Bernie Carbo out at the plate on a tag by Elrod Hendricks of the Baltimore Orioles.

"I really felt sorry for Burkhart," Anderson said.

Then there was the decision which cost the Reds a run when Jerry Dale called Joe Morgan out at the plate on a crucial play.

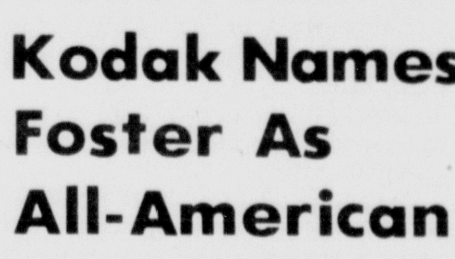

Anderson got himself tossed out of the game after watching the replay on a television monitor and then exclaiming "Thank God for NBC."

He steered clear of the biggest controversy of this year's World Series in which Larry Barnett refused to rule interference against the Reds Ed Armbrister on a bump with Boston catcher Carlton Fisk.

"The play was called in our favor, so what could I say," said Anderson.

"There is so much focus on the World Series that I was scared for Larry Barnett. I wanted to tone things down the next day. The media and broadcasters were all saying he was wrong on his call. I was concerned for him, concerned something might happen to him."

Kodak Names Foster As All-American

Wittenberg College has announced that its stellar linebacker Bob Foster, former Amanda-Clearcreek grid great, has been named to the Kodak All-American football team.

The junior linebacker was named to the Division II first squad, despite the fact that Wittenberg is a Division III school, for his fine play on the gridiron in his Division.

The Kodak team is selected by the nation's college football coaches.

Foster was a key defender on Wittenberg's team that won its second NCAA Division III crown last week at Phenix City, Ala.

He had numerous sacks of the quarterback and played a "magnificent game", according to the Ohio Conference school.

He had more than 160 tackles and seven pass interceptions this season which are both records for a Wittenberg linebacker. One pass interception was run back for a 37-yard touchdown.

Foster is being touted by Wittenberg coaches as one of the all-time great defensive players at the Ohio Conference school.

Celtics Top Milwaukee

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

The Boston Celtics' version of the "Over the Hill Gang" showed the youngsters from Milwaukee a thing or two about playing basketball.

Don Nelson, a 13-year National Basketball Association veteran, broke out of a prolonged slump by scoring 10 points in a blistering fourth period which boosted Boston to a 111-98 victory over the Milwaukee Bucks Wednesday night.

"I'm happy for Nellie," Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn said. "That was the best game we've had from him in a long time. He missed his first shot and bounced back. It's not easy."

The 35-year-old Nelson, who finished with 14 points, brushed off his performance.

"I wish that people wouldn't worry too much about me," Nelson said. "I'm all right. I'll help this club. I don't need a ton of sympathy. Before this season's over, I'll do my bit."

In other NBA games Wednesday, Phoenix defeated Houston 105-91, Kansas City downed Atlanta 100-94 and Seattle topped Chicago 99-79.

GYMNAST — Lynne Klim, a member of the Chillicothe gymnastic team, took several awards in a tri match with Wheeling and Cambridge. Against Wheeling she was first in the vault, second on the floor and third on the bars and "all-around." She placed first on the floor, second in the vault, bars and "all-around and third on the beam. Chillicothe won the meet. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klim, 575 Maplevue Lane.

Bill Veeck Back In Baseball

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Bill Veeck is back in major league baseball, but not exactly the way he planned.

A Veeck group of some 40 people was approved Wednesday as the new owner of the American League's Chicago White Sox. But the 61-year-old Veeck wound up with little or no capital interest in the team.

Veeck disclosed that he had to sell much of the interest he would have received for putting the purchase package together, in order to raise the additional $1.2 million required for league approval.

The colorful Veeck actually winds up as president of the White Sox at a reported $65,000 a year salary. The majority stock (80 per cent) purchased from John Allyn for $9.75 million is owned by investors, including former home run king Hank Greenberg and Bill DeWitt, one-time owner of the old St. Louis Browns and the Cincinnati Reds. Allyn retains a 20 per cent interest.

The league approval of the Veeck group at the four-day-old winter baseball meetings didn't come easy. It took two ballots by the owners before the necessary three quarters vote was obtained. The final tally was 10-2. Nine votes are needed to effect an American League club sale.

On the first ballot, the count reportedly was 8-3, with one abstention. A debate ensued as some owners insisted on a second ballot. This move was challenged, but prevailed on the plea that every club should vote yes or no. Lee MacPhail, president of the American League, refused to confirm the vote counts.

MacPhail, however, did confirm that the holdup arose because Veeck didn't conform to the league's stipulations after the owners turned down the group Dec. 3, demanding the extra $1.2 million in working capital.

One owner, who would not be identified, said, "He (Veeck) would have won immediate approval if he had complied with our instructions. The whole thing would have been over in 15 minutes."

It was explained that Veeck was supposed to come back with $6 million deposited in the bank. Instead he had $3,456,730 on deposit in Continental Bank of Chicago, and submitted $2,630,000 in signed subscription pledges.

There were varying legal interpretations to these subscriptions. "They don't mean a thing," said one owner. "A guy who signed one of those things can change his mind and back out."

Veeck's lawyers explained that there was no question that the Veeck group had met league conditions.

Attorney David Cohen said, "The league requested that we raise $6 million and that we did."

Veeck owned the White Sox from 1959 through 1961, when health forced him to get out of baseball.

While the American League solved one of its headaches, the National League met down the hall deliberating what to do with the failing San Francisco Giants.

National League President Charles Feeney said his owners hope to have something definite on the Giants' situation today.

Feeney refused to elaborate, but Los Angeles Dodgers' owner Walter O'Malley, a power in NL circles, indicated that the Giants would not be moved out of the Bay Area.

"I doubt that very much," said O'Malley. "Somebody would have to face the liability."

O'Malley referred to planned legal action by the City of San Francisco, which has the Giants under lease for 19 more years at Candlestick Park.

O'Malley was asked about the prospects of the Giants being sold to a group headed by Ron Lurie, or American Funding Co., Inc., a Beverly Hills, Calif., mortgage banking company.

"I don't think so," O'Malley replied. "I don't think there will be an overnight sale."

Toronto interests also were on hand to support their $12.5 million for the Canadian city.

The approval of the Veeck group left hanging a multi-million dollar antitrust action scheduled for next month by the State of Washington against the American League for pulling a franchise out of Seattle after one season (1969) and moving it to Milwaukee.

"It always has been scheduled for Jan. 12, and still is scheduled for Jan. 12, and the case will go to trial unless there is baseball in Seattle," said Slade Gorton, attorney general for the state who was attending the meeting.

"We have talked to them (American League) at length, about both (the suit and getting a team)," Gorton said. "We are hoping that the major leagues between them can find a solution."

MacPhail said the league intended to continue talks with the Seattle people. It also was rumored that the Minnesota Twins might be interested in a switch to the city in the Pacific Northwest.

The franchise discussions didn't stop the ballclubs from continuing their trade action — which reached seven deals involving 22 players.

The Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Phillies made the most significant deal of the meetings. The Sox sent 20-game winner Jim Kaat, an American League All-Star, to the Phils for three young players, pitchers Dick Ruthven and Roy Thomas, and infielder-outfielder Alan Bannister, all No. 1 draft choices.

Earlier, the Texas Rangers acquired pitcher Bill Singer from the California Angels for first baseman Jim Spencer and a reported $100,000. There were a number of other trades on the back burner as the sessions neared conclusion and the Friday midnight interleague trading deadline approached.

Clark Unhappy With Grid Status

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals fullback Boobie Clark, his pride wounded over what he considers a demotion, thinks the Cincinnati Bengals coaching staff is trying to psyche him into a state of readiness for Saturday's crucial battle with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The 250-pound running back, fuming over his uncertain status, announced Wednesday that "I'm not talking to the press this week."

He was benched for the first half of last week's game with the Philadelphia Eagles. He played the second half with a vengeance, rushing for 65 yards on 11 carries, his best performance of the year.

"It's nothing personal," said Clark, who is Cincinnati's leading ground gainer with 523 yards. "I'm just not talking," said the blocky back who was named rookie of the year in 1973 when he rumbled for 988 yards.

"I'm not sure what's going on. I just want to get my mind on the game. I think this is some kind of a tactic," said Clark, who is Cincinnati's leading rusher with 523 yards.

Coach Paul Brown denies that Clark was demoted, but adds "Boobie can be back in there anytime he starts playing like Boobie."

Brown said reserve fullback Ed Williams started ahead of Clark against Philadelphia because "Boobie was ill in the middle of the week and missed some practice."

Kentucky Rips Miami; Wins 91-69

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When told some people say Kentucky doesn't have a good basketball team this year, Coach Darrell Hedric of Miami of Ohio commented:

"I don't feel sorry for them. I've got problems of my own."

Hedric and his team had plenty of problems Wednesday night as Kentucky, led by Jack Givens and Rick Robey with 31 and 30 points, respectively, humbled the Redskins 91-69.

"We couldn't stop Givens and Robey," Hedric lamented. "We changed people and we tried to force Givens different ways, but we just couldn't force him."

"The damage was done early and we have no excuses," Hedric added. "They took it to us and we lost our poise in the first half."

Kentucky, ranked 14th in the nation, never trailed in the game and held a 50-31 advantage at halftime. Most of the time the Wildcats had Miami baffled with their 1-3-1 zone defense.

By halftime, Givens and Robey had combined for 38 points — more than the entire Miami team. "Givens shot tremendously and Robey gave us a strong game," Kentucky Coach Joe Hall said.

Chuck Goodyear paced Miami with 20 points and teammate John Shoemaker added 17.

Maryland Rips Georgia Tech

By BOB GREENE AP Sports Writer

Second-ranked Maryland made a wreck out of Georgia Tech. And it might just be the beginning.

"I think they're a better ball club than they were last year" when they finished fifth in the final Associated Press poll with a 24-5 record, said Tech Coach Dwane Morrison.

With John Lucas sporting his lucky charm, the talent Terps rambled past Georgia Tech 93-65, running Maryland's record to 5-0.

Lucas is wearing a Southwestern Indian "hishi" choker made of turquoise chunks and abalone shell. The senior guard said the necklace was a gift given him last season while in New Mexico for National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament play.

Neither Lucas nor the Terps needed luck to crush Georgia Tech, now 1-2. Tech played the Terps almost even with a slow, deliberate game until the last minutes of the first half. But Maryland came back in the second half with a tightened defense and amazingly accurate outside shooting.

Maryland has averaged 108 points in its five games while holding its opponents to an average of 69. The Terps are shooting at a 61.7 per cent pace. Seven players are averaging in double figures and three are shooting at 73 per cent or better.

Forward Steve Sheppard and center Larry Gibson scored 17 points each and dominated the backboards. Lucas had 16.

Tenth-ranked Arizona was the only other member of the Top Ten to see action and the Wildcats bowed to 16th-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas 98-94. Eddie Owens led the Rebels, now 5-0, with 25 points. Len Gordy's 22 points topped Arizona, 4-2.

In other games involving Top Twenty schools, 14th-ranked Kentucky defeated Miami of Ohio 91-69 and 18th-ranked Michigan stopped previously undefeated South Carolina 91-82.

Jack Givens and Rick Robey combined for 61 points to lead the Kentucky Wildcats. Never trailing in the game, Kentucky rolled out to a 50-31 halftime advantage and later increased their margin to 23 points with 15:37 left in the game.

Given, a 6-foot-4 sophomore, finished with 31 points while Robey, a 6-10 sophomore, added 30.

Michigan ran its record to 2-1 behind guard Rickey Green's 27 points. The Wolverines raced out to a 17-4 lead in the first six minutes before the Gamecocks battled back behind the shooting of Alex English to cut the lead to 62-60 midway through the second half.

But Michigan then scored 11 straight points in a three-minute spurt and hung on for the victory. English finished with 30 points for the Gamecocks.

In one of Wednesday's closest games, Norm Nixon made both ends of

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Now that the Holiday Season is upon us, why not celebrate by reading a winner — winner of the Newberry Medal, that is! The Newberry Medal is given to the author of the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children published during the preceding year.

Winner of the 1975 Newberry Medal was "M. C. Higgins the Great" by Virginia Hamilton. This book creates an unforgettable picture of a young boy's growing awareness of his surroundings. M. C. Higgins is a character with whom you can identify and for whom you will care.

"The Slave Dancer" by Paula Fox is about a boy that is kidnapped and put aboard a ship. He does not understand why he is so important until other passengers are loaded on-board. A story about a boy coming to grips with reality.

Protected by a wolf pack while lost on the tundra, a 13 year-old Eskimo girl begins to appreciate her heritage — and the united feeling of living with nature. "Julie of the Wolves" by Jean Craighead George is truly an adventure story.

Another Newberry Medal book was "Mrs. Frisby and the Rats of NIMH" by Robert C. O'Brien. The story is of a widow mouse with problems that is helped by some highly educated rats who are about to set up an independent culture.

When her loved mentally retarded brother is lost, a 14 year-old girl feels it is the longest day of her life and finds compassion in a friend. "The Summer of the Swans" by Betsy Byars is a very moving story.

"Sounder" by William H. Armstrong is the story about the death of a man and his devoted dog that leaves the man's son on his own. The independence he learns and strength of character he achieves makes this a beautiful story.

Birdie Boyer and her hard-working family raise strawberries in Florida, but arouse the hatred of their lazy neighbors. "Strawberry Girl" by Lois Lenski is a time-proven winner.

The first Newberry Medal was awarded in 1922 so there are lots more winners for you to read. Avoid the Christmas rush and check out early!

A pair of large high pressure systems surrounding Ohio are expected to bring an unsettled weather pattern for the weekend.

One is centered over the Gulf Coast states—the other, over northern Alberta.

A slow warming trend is expected to begin late tonight, possibly bringing more snow to the northern counties.

Today was mostly cloudy with a few snow flurries in the north. Temperatures were to remain generally in the 30s.

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

Decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season when the United Methodist Women met for their holiday meeting on Wednesday.

Following the carry-in lunch, served at noon, the group sang "Joy to the World". For devotions, Mrs. Beulah Robbins read one verse of scripture, John 3:16 and spoke on four things that Jesus emphasized; Brotherhood, Faith, Judging, and Love.

Letha Murray gave a musical reading "If Jesus Came to Your House" and Mrs. Robbins closed the devotions with prayer.

The president, Fay Pine, conducted the business meeting, and nineteen members responded to the roll call.

A Christmas greeting was read from the society's orphan Tjokorde, Istri Tirta.

Secret pals were drawn for the coming year, followed by gift exchange and revealing of secret pals of 1975.

Grange News

NEBRASKA GRANGE

Members of Nebraska Grange enjoyed their annual Christmas Party at the regular December meeting. Mrs. Chester Noecker, lecturer, presented the program.

Readings included: "Welcome Visitor" and "Christmas Wish." Mrs. Joseph Peters was the accompanist for the singing of Christmas Carols by the members. A gift exchange was held. Mr. and Mrs. David Dill served Christmas punch and cookies at the close of the program.

The business session was conducted by Edward Crites, worthy master. He reported on the activities of the County Grange Youth at the National Grange Meeting, the Christmas party of the Grange Youth and the Youth Conference to be held Dec. 27-28.

Mrs. Peters, Women's Activity chairman, reported she would accept orders for a National Grange Bicentennial Cook Book. She also asked for volunteers to furnish food for Saturday evening dinner at the Grange Youth Conference Dec. 27.

Carl Bennett reported on Grange Insurance. A letter of thanks was read from Pickaway County Extension office for cooperation received from the Grange for the year of 1975. It was announced that Barbara Crites and Don Forquer were candidates for the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Degrees at the National Grange Session in Columbus.

County Degree Day will be held 3 p.m. Jan. 31. A carry-in dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Nebraska Grange will present the exchange program at Scioto Valley Grange and Washington Grange will be the guests and present the program at Nebraska Grange. Dates will be announced later. Nebraska inspection will be held March 2.

Ohio State Grange is making plans for a hobby and craft show to be held at the Ohio State Fairgrounds July 31-Aug. 1.

It was decided to have a carry-in dinner 6:30 p.m. Jan. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Don Collins will serve on the January Committee. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, delegates to the state meeting, will be present to report.

2nd National Bank Promotes Mrs. Fullen

MARLENE FULLEN

The board of directors of The Second National Bank of Circleville today announced the promotion of Marlene M. Fullen to operations officer. She will also continue in her present position as manager of Second National's North Court Office.

Mrs. Fullen is well known in banking circles, coming with the local bank in 1944, shortly after graduation from Walnut Township High School which is now part of the Teays Valley School System. She has a certificate from the Larry Wilson School of Counselor Selling and has attended courses of the American Institute of Banking.

From 1952, until 1958, she worked for the Second National Bank of Richmond, Ind., before returning to Circleville. During her many years at Second National she has served in all departments of the Bank and has had extensive experience in overall bank operations. In February, 1970, she was named Manager of the North Court Office.

Mrs. Fullen is married to Owen Fullen, foreman at the local Ralston Purina Company; and they have two children Mrs. Jerry (Carlene) Francis who is a Pickaway County Health Nurse and Martin C. Fullen, who is attending Ohio Dominican College, Columbus, working toward a degree in business administration.

Mr. and Mrs. Fullen reside at Route 1, and are members of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Mental Disorders Hereditary

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Researchers say they have amassed conclusive evidence that most schizophrenia is caused by chemical imbalances in the brain and tends to be hereditary.

"We now have a steady stream of new data and information instead of just a simplistic theory," said Dr. William E. Bunney of the National Institute of Mental Health during a conference here.

Dr. Seymour Kety, a Harvard University psychopharmacologist in whose honor the gathering was held, said there are three main lines of research contributing to the belief that mental disorders are biochemical in origin.

Kety said there is now "conclusive evidence" of hereditary influence in most schizophrenia and many cases of manic depression.

The psychiatric drug specialist said the evidence on schizophrenia comes from studies of adopted persons who developed the illness later in life. Scientists who contacted the patients' natural families — with whom the victims had no contact after their adoption — determined that the illness tended to run in the family, Kety said.

Researchers reason that if the illness is hereditary, it is chemical in origin because genes express themselves chemically.

Kety said researchers also have concluded that the transmission of nerve impulses from one nerve cell to another also is by chemical means rather than through electrical signals, as previously theorized. This in turn lends support to the theory that the chemical balance in the brain has a great effect on a person's mood and behavior, he said.

The third area of evidence of chemical origin, he said, is the successful development of drugs to allay psychotic behavior. The newer drugs have been effective in relieving psychotic symptoms in 80 per cent of schizophrenics and 70 per cent of depressive individuals, he said.

Kety, the first scientific director of the NIMH when it was established in 1951, was honored at the conference last week for his efforts in biological psychiatry. The conference was sponsored by the Intra-Science Research Foundation.

Scientists attending the conference have differed about which chemicals will be effective in treating psychotic diseases and about what chemicals are involved in the so-called imbalances.

Bunney, for example, said he and his colleague, Dr. Frederick Goodwin of the National Institute of Mental Health, have found weaknesses in the theories that dopamine or serotonin are regulators of brain chemistry, but the researchers agreed the imbalances are almost certainly of a chemical nature.

Kety cautioned his colleagues against letting setbacks in pinpointing the precise chemicals make them pessimistic. In view of the extreme complexity of the brain, he said, solutions won't be easy, but scientists can be encouraged they are on the right track.

Cookbooks Are Ready!

The best news to come down the pike in many a day so far as I am concerned is the fact that finally the Deercreek Dam Days Festival cookbooks are ready. Thanks, thanks, thanks to a number of volunteers and especially to our Festival queen Miss Sandra Drummond who spent many hours doing a variety of jobs necessary to get the project completed.

Extra books over and above those already on order were made so that anyone who is interested might also buy. Contact Marabel Drummond at 986-2172 or yours truly at 986-3481.

Those persons who had placed an order earlier should call either of the aforementioned numbers and make arrangement for pick-up or delivery if this has not been done previously.

We still have a smidge of Thanksgiving doings such as at the Art Frazier home his daughter Mildred Jording, her husband Dan and children Barbara and Bradley of Dayton, another daughter Helen Shoemaker and her man Ray of Circleville and a son Ray Frazier of Angola, Ind. enjoyed being together.

Another Frazier daughter, Margaret

Hargis and her spouse Robert of Panama City, Fla. arrived on Saturday and stayed until Monday.

Still another Thanksgiving mention that I neglected last week is that Mary Alice Greenwood was the Thanksgiving night supper guest of her son Donald, his wife Sherry and her adored grandchild Lea.

Now we get to the Christmas parties that have begun with one of the more interesting being that of the Chief Logan Farm Bureau Council that includes from our area David and Marabel Drummond, Paul and Louise Drummond. The group had its party at the Country Dinner Playhouse near Reynoldsburg and had the pleasure of seeing Don Ameche in "Once More With Feeling".

Connie Drummond, District 7 Pork Council Queen, was in Columbus last Tuesday on behalf of the Ohio Porkettes in the hospitality room at the Neil House during the Ohio Farm Bureau Convention. Queen Connie has made a number of appearances throughout the surrounding area promoting pork since her selection as District 7 queen.

The birthdays of Earl Lanman and Nichole Dean were the high point of a dinner at the home of Marvin and Susan Spradlin and son Jason near Five Points on Sunday. The candles on the cake had two for little Nichole and for grandpa Earl there were a wee bit more.

Grandfather and granddaughter share the same birth date and what a wonderful gift that was two years ago and grandpa would be the first to wholeheartedly agree.

Family members adding to the joy of our day were grandmother Maxine Lanman, Jim and Karen Dean and Michele, all from our town, Alan and Barbara Bradshaw and Nichole's great-aunt Evelyn Blue, all from Circleville.

Through the generosity of Bob Francis the local Cub Scout Pack 179 has been given the "back room of the drug store" as a meeting place. Since the room has not been used for several years it will be necessary for some repair work to be done.

Harold Faber, Webelos leader and Carl Houser, a friend of scouting, have volunteered to be the steering committee and both men encourage all others who would be volunteer workers to contact them at 986-6361 or 986-5731 respectively.

Also needed are donations of materials such as for walls and ceilings and wiring for lights. The boys need your support and what could be better than lending a hand or donation to the scouts?

For quite some time the pack met at the Paul and Suzan (den mother) Bivens home but the Bivens family will be moving fairly soon, therefore, the need for a different meeting place.

The scheduled paper drive for last Saturday had to be re-scheduled due to the nasty weather conditions and the new date is this Saturday. Remember the boys can only take PAPERS — magazines unacceptable. Have the papers tied in bundles and if you so desire just place them outside where they can readily be seen and they will be picked-up Saturday. Or if you prefer, call Suzan at 986-6675 and arrange for pick-up.

It takes someone with a more extensive vocabulary than I possess to describe the emotional scene at the home of Bill and "Stewie" Forsythe. I'll give you the situation and let each reader try "a crack at it".

Little three-year-old Annie Forsythe has been a patient at Children's Hospital for nearly three weeks with a broken leg and fractured hip. She was placed in a full body cast this past Tuesday and scheduled to be discharged to her home on Wednesday.

Eagerly looking forward to her homecoming are brothers Billy and Mark and daddy. Billy and Mark can run to greet her but not so daddy who is — guess what — laid up in bed with a badly broken ankle.

His accident happened last Saturday when he took a bad fall. Rather than hospitalize him the doctors chose to place his ankle in a cast and send him home to mend. Like I said — how do you describe it?

Now that the cookbooks are no longer occupying my time and mind perhaps this business of Christmas shopping can be brought to swift completion and then won't it be nice to sleep with a free conscience! These things have been "bugging" me.

We added two more fans to the seafood buffet last Friday night in the persons of Esta Debo and daughter Rene'. Our Amy and friend Sherly Cox and my buddy Mary Alice Greenwood sat on the other chairs around the tables (and did their share).

Be with you again next week, the Lord willing. Take care.

Think About: You'll never get lost so long as everyone tells you where to go. (message in my Chinese fortune cookie)

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Gal Refuses To Have A Tie That Binds

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a 28-year-old woman I'll call "Terry." I am 31.

Terry and I have been living together for eight months. She claims she loves me, but here's the problem: I want to marry her, but she says, "I don't want marriage."

Abby, can that be? Doesn't every woman want marriage?

We started living together as an experiment. It has worked out very well for both of us, so why shouldn't marriage work?

Terry says, "Marriage will OBLIGATE us to live together. This way, we stay because we choose to." Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I want the security of knowing that we belong to each other legally.

Terry says a marriage certificate is just a piece of paper, which doesn't mean anything because if the marriage doesn't work out, it can be exchanged for another piece of paper that will dissolve it.

How can I get her to marry me?

OLD-FASHIONED
DEAR OLD—FASHIONED: You can't. And it's just as well, because while you may love each other, your ideologies are worlds apart.

DEAR ABBY: When our child started walking, we bought a harness for him. We use it to protect him in large crowds, unfamiliar surroundings and busy streets.

At first I felt hurt and even thought perhaps I was wrong when strangers would, say, "What do you think he is a dog?" Or, "That poor little thing. How can you do that to him?"

Now I am just plain angry! Would those critics rather that our child be lost, be run over or fall down a flight of stairs? His harness has saved him from all these things.

Our child is now 2, and we will dispose of his harness soon, but until we do, I wish strangers would think twice before they make such unkind remarks.

INDIGNANT MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Perhaps if they thought twice, they wouldn't make any unkind remarks at all.

DEAR ABBY: I believe I read in your column that there is something a person can take to keep from crying at a wedding.

Please find out what it is and tell me. I am to be a mother of the bride, and I just know I am going to cry all over the place at my daughter's wedding, and I look terrible when I cry. My eyes get red and my nose runs and I sob and

Man Turned Off Traffic Signal

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — Daniel L. Sheets faces a hearing in mayor's court Saturday because he couldn't persuade a policeman he had good reason for shutting off a traffic light.

Sheets told an officer the light wasn't working properly but the officer said he couldn't find anything wrong.

The patrolman was further perplexed when he saw Sheets' truck parked in a nearby lot and that the driver wasn't prepared to proceed through the intersection anyway.

In 1910, says the National Automobile Club, there were about 100 manufacturers of electric cars in the United States. But within 20 years these cars were replaced by the more convenient gasoline-powered autos.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A day for action! Don't slow up progress by being overly meticulous, fussy, looking for nonexistent defects in your program.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You're in the spotlight now, with special emphasis on response to your efforts and presentation of ideas. Curb any tendency toward aggressiveness. Win your way through tact, diplomacy.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your know-how and ability to handle the unexpected could result in outstanding advantages. Spend time and talents constructively. This day will be rich in opportunity.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Stress your innate enthusiasm and eagerness to do well but be willing, also to WAIT out results, to accept setbacks with inner calm.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A fair day. You can manage in better-than-average fashion, yet must take precautions neither to underestimate nor overevaluate new propositions.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Don't be impulsive about making changes unless you are certain they will prove beneficial. Intellectual pursuits highly favored.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): While you await new developments or results of effort, proceed with other good plans, ideas. Don't sit back, satisfied with previous endeavors—or gains.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): A day in which to curb your natural Martian aggressiveness with intelligent self-discipline, moderation. Avoid extremes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21): Neither fear to step into a new or changed picture, nor step too quickly before you are ready. Know your ground sufficiently and that of associates, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Speak in discreet words, with temperance and compassion foremost—it will work wonders now. Opposition? It can be a healthy challenge: Self-control!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Give careful thought to decisions you must make soon. Try to understand thoroughly the jobs and involvements of the next few days. And be objective!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Influences highly stimulating. Overzealousness, overreaching may tempt. Hasty words and deeds could cause endless redoing and undoing; leave, scars, too.

YOU BORN TODAY are philosophically inclined; extremely ambitious and versatile in your talents and abilities. Keenly analytical, logical and objective in your thinking, you could shine in the legal field where your mentality, harnessed to your sense of the dramatic and your subtle, but brilliant wit, would make you an outstanding trial lawyer. This same sense of the dramatic could serve you well as a writer, theatrical producer or entertainer. Other careers open to you: education, publishing, promoting. Birthdate of: John Jay, early Amer. statesman; G. Flaubert, Fr. novelist.

3 Men Held In Abduction; Missing Banker Not Found

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — A body was found today near the area where authorities were searching for James J. Crawford, a Detroit bank executive, who was abducted a week ago, the FBI at the scene said.

The FBI was uncertain whether the body was that of Crawford and refused further comment. FBI agents in Detroit said Crawford's family was informed that a body had been found and was awaiting positive identification.

Crawford, a 25-year-old assistant bank manager for National Bank of Detroit, was abducted last Friday on his way to work at a bank branch on the west side of Detroit.

The kidnapers had demanded $250,000 through intermediaries picked at random to deliver their messages. The FBI said no ransom money was paid in Crawford's abduction, although NBD reportedly had made the money available.

Crawford, a bachelor, lived with his parents in Grosse Pointe.

The FBI started to search in Licking County in central Ohio on Wednesday, but agents permitted no one, including local and county authorities, in the area.

The area being searched was in the county's northeastern section, within a half mile of the Knox County line.

Three men were arrested in the abduction of Crawford.

A third man, Chester S. Wysocki, 36, also of Dearborn, was arrested and arraigned in Detroit after being arrested in suburban Farmington. Garsides and Nabozny appeared before a U.S. Magistrate in Columbus and were lodged in the Franklin County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bond each. A hearing was scheduled for Dec. 18.

The FBI said Garsides, Wysocki and Nabozny all were "in flight from apprehension" when they were arrested.

"It was known at that time (of the arrests) that Crawford was not with them, nor was he under their control," an FBI spokesman said.

"I simply don't have any information to give you right now about the fate of Mr. Crawford," he added.

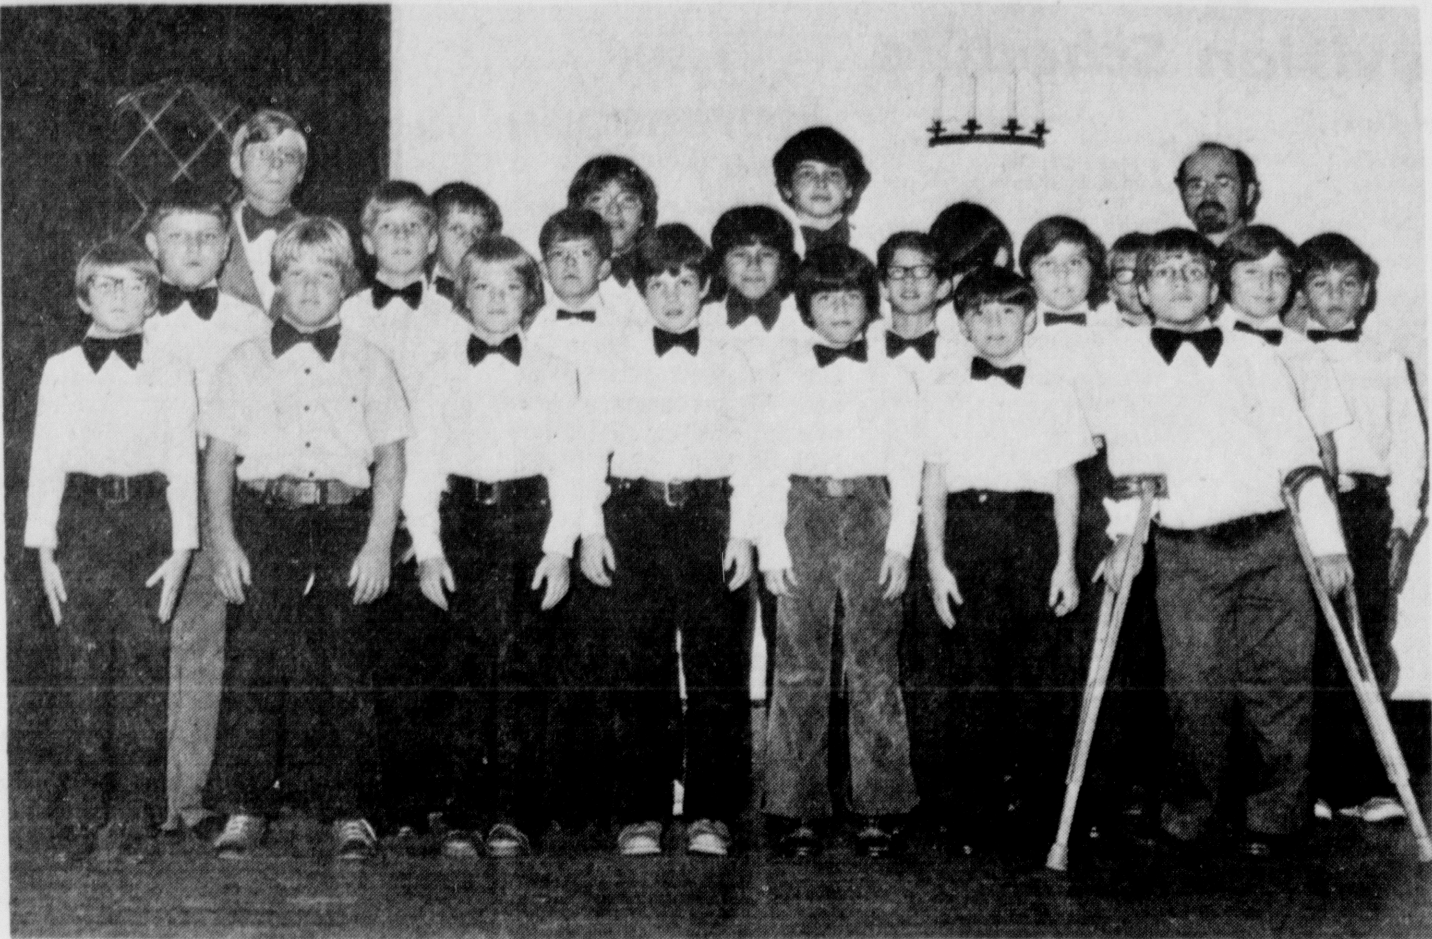

Asked whether the FBI knew if Crawford was alive, the FBI spokesman reiterated his earlier statement and said, "I can't comment on that now."

The spokesman emphasized that the abduction involved "attempted extortion" and he repeated that no ransom money was paid.

The spokesman said the three were charged with conspiracy to commit the crime of bank larceny through the use of a hostage.

Witnesses told police that Crawford was forced into a car by another man outside the bank as he reported for work.

The bank and Crawford's family broadcast appeals to the abductors to contact them with details for the ransom drop, but police said no contact ever was made.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT — The Circleville Boy's Choir will present a Christmas Concert, 3 p.m., Sunday at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church. Selection by the 20-voice choir will include many English Carols as well as songs by American composers. Soloists performing in the concert include, Jeff Mullet, Layne Wolfe, Mike Nansel and Bob Zehner. Accompanist, Randy Wolfe will perform with Jerry Yeatts, a former member of the choir, during the intermission.

TV Music Department Plans Christmas Concert

The Teays Valley Vocal Music Department, under the direction of Miss Darlene Freeman, will present "A Christmas Dream," Sunday afternoon, at 2 p.m. in the Teays Valley High School Auditorium, admission free.

The high school choir, high school girls chorus, junior high male chorus, and junior high girls chorus will perform. The program will also feature the Varsity Vocals, and various soloists and small groups, singing contemporary Christmas music, standard carols, old favorites, and music from the television spectacular "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer." Teays Valley choir alumni will be invited to join the choir on stage for the final number "White Christmas."

Soloists on the program include David Rainey, Ruth Cline, Tammy Shields, Brad Sherman, Lana Sturgell, Jay Van Pelt, Diana Mitcham, Roger Bickers, Gloria Fields, Bill Lockard, Linda Lloyd, Kathie Drake, Jeff Kazee, Jim Seyfang, Kathy Myers, Linda Lee White; and Junior High students Doug Swank, Pat Roese, Sandy Beach, Diana Blaney, Mary Hinkle, Lisa Rathburn, and Kay Hinkle. Sherrie Spencer will play a piano solo "Sleigh Ride."

Performing in special groups are Laurie Dixon, Kathie Drake, and Florie Mesner singing "Jolly Old Saint Nicholas"; Colene Myers, Nancy Hardy, Kaylene Myers, and Bonnie Anthony singing "We Are Santa's

Elves; Linda Morehart and Sherrie Spencer singing "When Santa Claus Gets Your Letter"; Sherrie Clemens, Layne Rickard, and Gina Smith singing "The Most Wonderful Day of the Year"; Terrie Myers, Sandy Brown, and Diana Mitcham singing "Thirty-two feet and Eight Little Tails"; Gwen and Terrie Myers singing "Nuttin' for Christmas"; Steve Baum and Florie Mesner singing "Winter Wonderland"; Linda and Mary White singing "Midnight Time, New Year's Eve" composed by Linda Lee White; David Rainey and Brad Sherman singing "Do You Hear What I Hear?"; and Lana Sturgell and Jay Van Pelt singing "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas."

Junior high students performing in special groups are David Allison and Dan Groff; Dale List, Joey Parish, Tim White; and David Eldridge, Jim Miller, and Chuck Forte. Sherrie Spencer and Theresa Devors are piano accompanists.

Man Charged After Chase

An 18-year-old Circleville man, Dwight C. Radcliff, 121 W. Franklin St., was charged by Circleville Police with eluding police officers and speeding following an early Thursday chase that obtained speeds in excess of 95 miles an hour.

Arresting officers Sgt. Wes Barton and Ptl. Joe Stevenson said Radcliff, son of Pickaway County Sheriff and Mrs. Dwight Radcliff, claimed to be in pursuit of another vehicle. However the officers said in their report that they did not see another car during the chase.

The incident began 1:08 a.m. Thursday when Ptl. Stevenson spotted a car allegedly driven by Radcliff travel through the intersection of Scioto and W. Main Sts. and turn onto W. Main, apparently making unnecessary noise with the tires of the car and operating it in a reckless manner.

Ptl. Stevenson, followed the car, was able to obtain a moving clock at the intersection of W. Main St. and the Island Rd. and noted that the car was traveling at speeds in excess of 95 miles an hour.

The officer pursued the vehicle westbound on Route 22 to the Circleville-Westfall Rd., where Radcliff made a left turn, onto the Canal Rd., and back onto Route 22 in an eastbound direction of travel.

Radcliff was stopped at the Pickaway Grain Co. parking lot by Sgt. Barton.

Local attorney Bob Huffer entered a not guilty plea in Municipal Court Thursday morning for Radcliff.
